One of the most successful productions of the Entertainment Club was the presentation of "A Singing School of Ye Olden Time," in Channing church parlors last Tuesday evening. The audience was taken back some fifty years and for nearly two hours was entertained with the old songs so popular at that time. Many of the costumes were very handsome and the quaint style of dressing those taking the character parts. Miss Mabel Hall as Mistress Plunkett, the teacher, Mr. Thomas L. Deacon as the leader, Mr. Plant as the violinist and Miss Cynthia Bigelow, the accompanist. All did their parts satisfactorily while the rendering of the various selections on the program by Mrs. Ralph Emery, Mrs. Ralph Bartlett, Mrs. Robert Mandell, Miss Snow, Dr. L. H. Nayler, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Mabel Couillard, Mr. Charles Bacon and Mr. Horace Harrington were well received, bringing forth much applause and the singing man kept good order throughout the evening. Dear Sir: You are interested in the prosperity of your town, and every dollar anybody saves adds to the wealth of the place.

People can save half their money on paint—more than half. Devoe Lead and Zinc takes fewer gallons than mixed paints to cover a house, and lasts twice or three times as long as lead and oil.

Paint is saved; labor is saved; and the "painting nuisance" is made half as frequent.

When Devoe Lead and Zinc is established in Newton, Newton will get more out of it than we shall.

Yours truly,

The first gymnasium in a preparatory school

In the Graphic for March 20 in the account of the exercises at the Allen school the statement is made: "In 1853 it was purchased for a private school to which was later added a gymnasium the first in connection with any preparatory school."

In the early forties Mr. Amos Baker taught school in the old South Chapel, Spring Lane, which I attended. About 1844 or 45 he moved to a school which he had built on Chapman place, in the rear of the Parker House. The site is now covered by an extension of that hotel. In the basement of the school building was a large gymnasium, well equipped for that time. We had chest weights, parallel bars, horizontal and inclined ladders, rings and other apparatus. The boys were expected to make this their recreation room at recess and not go on the street. Having no teacher nor supervisor of gymnastics we played tag all over the apparatus and exercised as inclined. The school had a primary and an advanced or preparatory departments with two or three assistant teachers. I received there my first insight into French and Latin attending the school until I was eleven years old when having been several times injured in the gymnasium I was sent to a public school.

Rev. Mr. Hammatt Installed

A large audience were present at the Universalist church last Sunday evening at the installation of the Rev. Albert Hammatt as pastor.

The exercises included an invocation by the Rev. William J. Thompson of the Newtonville Methodist church, scripture lesson and prayer by the Rev. F. A. Taylor of the Universalist church of Waltham, a sermon by the Rev. James F. Albion of Malden, an address to the parish by the Rev. R. Perry Bush, of Chelsea, an address of welcome by the Rev. Ozora S. Davis of the Central church, and singing by the congregation.

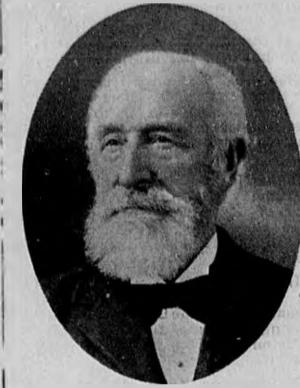

Mr. Hammatt is a graduate of Tufts College, '79. His first pastorate was at the First Universalist church of Brockton, where he remained for eight years, followed by four years at the First Universalist church at Bellows Falls. He is an enthusiast in athletics and is a strong believer in the fraternal orders. He is a Mason himself and while stationed at Bellows Falls was prelate of Holy Cross commandery, K.T.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel T. Allen, of West Newton, Observe 50th Wedding Day.

A large and Notable Reception Held on Monday Afternoon and Evening.

An event of more than local interest was the observance last Monday of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Topliff Allen of Webster street, West Newton.

Mr. Allen's long connection with the school, which bears his name, and which has graduates all over the world, has made him a well known character, not only in this city, but in educational circles all over the country, and there were many noted guests among the hundreds which thronged the Allen mansion during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were assisted in receiving by their daughters, Misses Fanny B. and Lucy E. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were the recipients of many gifts, among which was $575 in gold from West Newton friends, contained in a purse with a gold clasp, inscribed 1853-1903 and accompanied by a beautiful bunch of yellow flowers. Ex-Gov. Clafin sent a plate which bore the crest of Lord Lyons, at one time minister from England at Washington, and which had also been owned by Charles Sumner. Mrs. Ednah D. Cheney brought her own memoirs as a gift and letters, cable and telegrams were received from all over the world.

Resolutions were presented from the directors of the Ponroy Home, of which Mr. Allen has long been president, and from the executive committee of the Alumni of the West Newton English and Classical school.

Poems were read by Mrs. James H. Wheeler, Jr., Mrs. Eugenia Allen and by Mr. Henry F. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married March 30, 1853, at Nantucket, by the Rev. Mr. Forbman, pastor of the Unitarian church. Mrs. Allen was Caroline Swift Bassett, daughter of James Nye and Rebecca (Freeman) Bassett of Nantucket.

Nathaniel Topliff Allen was born in Medfield, Sept. 29, 1823, and was the son of Ellis and Lucy (Lane) Allen.

Portions of three years of his minority were passed in a Waltham cotton mill, where was acquired a knowledge of textile manufacture. He received a good common school education in a family school of the Rev. Joseph Allen at Northboro and at Northfield Academy.

After three successful seasons, in charge of schools, and having chosen to become a teacher he continued his professional studies in the Bridgewater normal school under Nicholas Tillinghast, and in the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y. After teaching in the common district and singing schools at Mansfield, Northboro, Northfield and Shrewsbury until the spring of 1848, Mr. Allen was appointed by Horace Mann of the state board of education to the charge of the model department of the normal school at West Newton. This position he filled with marked ability for nearly six years, when, in connection with Cyrus Pierce, father of American normal schools, he established the institu-

NEW ALLEN SCHOOL.

On Tuesday last the new Allen school building on Waltham street was formally opened. The assembled company consisted of members of the corporation and their wives, parents of pupils and a few invited guests. These gathered at eight o'clock in the assembly room, a hall beautiful in its finish of dark green and rich with the contrast of plain gold on the organ pipes, while a touch of elegance was added by palms and flowers and the soft radiance of electric light. In the entrance hall and corridors the ash finish is stained a deep brown, above which is a wall of almost Pompeian red, lightened by a cast of the Victory of Samothrace on its tiremire prowl over the door and a relief by Delta Robbia half way up the stairs. The library is finished in dark green. The grammar school room is in brown wood with a dado of Indian red and walls of light buff. The music room is olive and sage, the laboratory brown and French grey. In the basement the gymnasium is a large well lighted room in natural curly pine. But the room that received most praise was the swimming tank. Severe in outline, yet under the glare of the arc light the spotless tiles of the walls with the sea-green plaster above, the white mosaic floor with the sea-green water below, so clear that every square of the mosaic bottom showed clear through six and a half feet it, made a picture that drew an exclamation from every beholder.

In introducing Mayor Weeks, Mr. Bailey took occasion to speak of the rather remarkable fact that practically every member of the new corporation had been or was then actively identified with public service, particularly with the city government of Newton.

The Mayor spoke in a happy way of the need of private schools to supplement the excellent work of our public system, and in particular of the admirable services rendered by the Allen school not only by its technical training but by the helpful example in public spirit set by the men who were over the school for fifty years.

The address of the evening was given by Dean LeBaron R. Briggs of Harvard University. The paper preached the good old-fashioned gospel of education by work, salvation by drudgery and the ideal, doctrine too little preached in these days of the so-called New Education.

The character of the music was in keeping with the dignity of the occasion. Mr. Heinrich sang under great disadvantage; but few in the audience could have been aware of any difficulty, so finely responsive was his voice to the feeling of his selections. Mr. Emery's handling of the organ, too, was in every way worthy of his reputation.

At the close of the exercises Mr. and Mrs. Bailey met the guests and presented them to Dean Briggs and the Mayor.

Lasell.

A reception was given Saturday afternoon by members of the Lasell Seminary Glee Club, followed in the evening by a concert. About 150 were present. The committee consisted of the president of the club, Miss Ethel B. Hook, and the leader, Miss Evelyn Bates, assisted by other officers.

The pupils' musical rehearsal will take place next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Friends are welcome.

Poem By Mrs. Eugenia Allen
The fifty years have rolled away
Slow, swift, and bright and sad.
And now this golden wedding day
Makes loving hearts most glad.

For here grows brighter still with time
Lives youth's first faith and joy
And love is proved again, once more
Pure gold without alloy.

No trembling, youthful bride I ween
Such capture ever knew
As now is hers who looks beyond
With all the past in view.

O perfect truth! O faith so sure
There is no room for fears
Unite with heavenly love to bless
The bride of 50 years.

Poem By Mrs. Wheeler.

Fifty years of joy and sorrow,
Fifty years of health and strife,
Since you started on life's journey
As a joyous youth and maid,
With the future full of promise,
Stretching out so fair and bright,
Beckoning with its radiant vision
To the heights beyond your sight.

And you walked its shining pathway
Hand in hand and side by side,
Friends and kindred, and guides,
And of trust, where'er ye're beside.
Soon the years brought graver duties:
Yours to teach the feet of youth
How to walk in ways of wisdom,
How to seek and love the Truth.

She, as wife and friend and mother,
Friends and children made complete;
And her sweet and gracious presence
Helps to make the world more sweet.
Thus the days have rolled by swiftly,
Weeks have grown to months and years.
Each has brought some helpful lesson,
Some were learned through pain and tears.

Time has turned the pages gently,
Silvered through the looks may be;
'Tis the heart that tells the story,
And the spirit, dauntless, free.
For the joys outweigh the sorrows,
And to-day, from East and West,
Measures of love are winging
From each friend and absent guest.

And from many a youth and maiden,—
Pupils seen in width of far,
With theistic Aspirations,
As a bright and gilding star,
And whose lives are bearing witness,
In their helpfulness and zeal,
That the master builded truly,
Not in vain was his appeal.

Crowned with success, and honor,
Pray, what more can life bestow?

And the future holds no horrors,
Of life's dim paths no gloom and dread,
Back of all our griefs and crosses,
Which are oft misunderstood,
Is the great First Cause abiding,
Working for man's final good.

And what seems unjust and cruel
To our vision so obscure
In the chain of evolution
Is it's dim with gloom and sure,
Meeting the future with a freer
Every blessing of the past,
And its shadow's melt in sunshine,
To remain while life shall last.

Report of Railroad Commissioners

On the Service of the Boston & Albany Railroad Co.

When, in July, 1900, the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company assumed control of the Boston & Albany Railroad, it took charge of a property which had been in many respects a source of just pride to the stockholders and to the Commonwealth.

A new management with new methods will always meet in an atmosphere of association with and friendship for the old administration, a criticism which is apt to exaggerate real grievances and give to groundless complaint an appearance of reality. Making due allowance for this, it is clear from the evidence given at the public hearing, through letters and in personal interviews, as well as from the record furnished by the company, that an increasing failure to make schedule time, beginning soon after the term of the lease, has culminated during the winter in a state of affairs approaching at times complete demoralization in the passenger service. It is true that all over the country during the past year lack of equipment and interference with coal supply have seriously interrupted railroad traffic. The rolling stock has been insufficient for the demands of business, and the shortage and poor quality of the coal supply have resulted in not only lessened power to make steam, but important undertakings made dependent upon the expectation that companies will keep faith with the public, and that trains will customarily come and go according to published time tables. When a company finds that delays are the rule and not the exception, the schedule should be changed, to one that can be maintained.

A specific instance of delay which was brought to our attention ought not to pass without comment. A regular train advertised to start at a given time was held back about an hour, and the convenience and necessities of a large number of passengers sacrificed to those of an individual who desired to attach his private car to the train. This was a violation of first principles in the conduct of a public service. The company does not offer to justify it, but to explain that it was due to a misunderstanding of facts. There would seem to be little excuse for a misunderstanding of this kind. The time of starting trains is fixed for the general convenience, and the individual has no controlling right in the premises.

It has been suggested that the troubles experienced upon this railroad have been due to the withdrawal of cars and locomotives from this into other states. We are enabled to verify the statement of the company that the rolling stock has not been diverted in this way, through the inventory made under the direction of the board in connection with the inspection of the property at the time the lease went into effect.

It is to the credit of the present management that an evil often found in the walks of the lease of a domestic to a foreign corporation, that rising from the removal of authority to such a distance as to prevent ready access on the part of those entitled to consideration and prompt action by the company when necessary, has been avoided in connection with the lease of the Boston & Albany Railroad.

The addition to the number of trains, the quickening of the running time, the development of through traffic and the introduction of a modern system of train despatching have all been improvements in furtherance of the public as well as private interests; but the good which might have been realized through these improvements was jeopardized in an attempt to make them without first securing such additions to the rolling stock as would insure successful results.

We understand that twenty-four new engines and thirty-six new passenger coaches have already been ordered, some of which have been delivered. This would mean not imperative demands for transportation of this commodity at the sacrifice of regularity in the moving of other freight and even of passenger trains.

An examination of the record upon other railroads within the Commonwealth shows that delays have been frequent and annoying, but not to so great an extent as upon the Boston & Albany Railroad. It is claimed by the lessee in control of the road that the root of the evil here lies in the character of the slow locomotives acquired under the lease. The rolling stock upon the Boston & Albany Railroad when the lease was executed was not such as one would have expected to find as the property of so progressive a company and one which had brought roadbed, stations and station grounds to so high a standard of excellence. A careful examination of this rolling stock was made by the board at the time when the lease went into effect. Of three hundred and thirty-six (336) cars then in use, forty-seven (47) were of the modern type, one hundred and fifty (150) modern in construction but of old pattern in respect to seats, and one hundred and sixty-nine (169) of an old and unsatisfactory type throughout. Of two hundred and forty-eight (248) locomotives, eighty (80) were heavy freight and passenger engines and nearly new, seventy-eight (78) were of average character and ninety (90) were near the end of their usefulness.

The old management has pursued a conservative and careful method

Colonial Theatre—Up to date sixty-five performances have been given of Klaw and Erlanger's beautiful, stupendous production of the Drury Lane spectacle, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" at the Colonial Theatre, Boston. These sixty-five performances have attracted nearly one hundred and fifty thousand people, a record truly to be proud of and one which completely eclipses all previous theatre offerings in the history of the New England amusement world. The engagement at the Colonial theatre is a limited one and those who have not already witnessed it should embrace the remaining opportunities. The management is giving special attention to mail orders. Seats are on sale three weeks in advance, so all the public has to do is to write selecting a date and choice seats will be forwarded.

Boston Grand Opera House—To be transported from the strife of town to the atmosphere of hill country, with its simple, honest people pursuing their lives of affection and trust, is a refreshment. In the realistic melodrama "Human Hearts," next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House, the scenes in which are laid chiefly among the hills of Arkansas, is found a power to charm that is marvellous. That its production will be welcomed by an overflowing house is almost a foregone conclusion. Matinees will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Golf

The formal opening of the season at the Albemarle Club, will occur on Patriots' Day, April 20.

The tournament committee of the Newton G. C., G. K. Maitby, W. D. Orcutt, A. B. Cobb and G. Linder has issued a preliminary program which will provide for club team matches:

April 4, 11 and 18—Medal play, 18 holes, to determine the ranking on teams. Women golfers are requested to join in the competitions.

April 20—Match play, 18 holes, team of five selected as far as possible from competitors in the play of April 4, 11 and 18. No handicap. Players will be matched as evenly as possible. Each win will count one point. Women golfers are requested to join in the match and will play on teams according to their ranking.

April 25—Scotch foursomes, no handicap players will be matched as evenly as possible.

of operation with this rolling stock, and no serious discomfort or inconvenience had been experienced by the travelling public. With the change in administration came an increased traffic, larger attention to freight and through business, additional trains, and the shortening of schedule time. The consequent strain upon the equipment, particularly upon the locomotives, was great, and in the extraordinary emergencies of the last six months proved disastrous.

The character of the rolling stock was known to the lessee when it took possession, and a number of standard locomotives and passenger coaches were ordered. The mistake was not in then providing for an equipment adequate for the business which was to be undertaken. This was the more necessary for the reason that it is generally impossible to go into the market from time to time and purchase rolling stock for immediate delivery.

With the development of railroad travel the public have become accustomed to relying upon advertised times for arrival and departure of trains, and the carrying out of much, if any more than the outlay usual to maintain the property. If the equipment delivered to the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company under the lease had been of modern and standard type throughout, an expenditure large enough to maintain it would be sufficient. It was not of such character however and there is need of a further substantial improvement in both cars and locomotives. As we believe this the company appreciates this need and will comply with the recommendations of the board there would seem to be no call for legislation.

Financial.

There is no let-up in the general business prosperity of the entire country. Railroad earnings are showing up most satisfactorily, while the country's industries are booming. How long the favorable factors will be kept in the background is impossible to say, but they will be brought forward some day in the near future, and investors who have the courage to buy stocks now and on all declines will be the ones to secure the large profits. Strong interests are borrowing money at ruling rates to carry securities bought at higher prices than present ruling quotations, and we do not believe that they are doing so to lose on the venture.—Curtis and Sederquist letter.

At times the stock market is a contradictory creature. It is seized with a speculative fever and a desire to send prices soaring to the zenith, when whatever news there is, is rather bad than good; again, it becomes timid and downcast and apathetic when nothing ill is in sight. Each state is doubtless more or less an attempt to discount the future; but often the prophecy is wrong.

Majestic Theatre—That sterling actor, Mr. Otis Skinner, will enter upon the second and last week of his engagement at the Majestic Theatre on Monday. Mr. Skinner has met with notable success during his present Boston engagement, which is the first he has played in that city in nearly ten years. The play has been lavishly mounted in the matter of scenery and costumes. In the character of "Lazarre," Mr. Skinner is at his best and many warm words of praise have been heard in regard to his interpretation of the role. His company is an excellent one. The attraction booked to follow Mr. Skinner is Kellar, the great magician who will begin a week's engagement on April 13.

Keith's Theatre—Sandow, the noted strong man and expert on physical culture, will be the only holdover attraction at Keith's for the week of April 6, but he will be again surrounded by an extra big list of first class vaudeville entertainers including Eddie Girard and Jessie Gardner, in their comedy singing and dancing skit "The Souurette and the Cop;" Edmund Breeze, a former Castle Square theatre favorite, in dramatic and humorous monologue; Fred St. Onge, the comedy bicyclist just returned from a world's tour; Jess Dandy the popular Hebrew parody singer; Hal Davis and Inez McAuley in a laugh-provoking farce; the Lamonts, noted equilibrists and hand balancers; and Aurie Dagwell a talented vocalist. Special attention is directed by the management to the new series of motion pictures, which are claimed to be the most interesting that have been exhibited since the machine was added to the regular attractions of the weekly show.

Death of J. E. Jones.

Mr. Joseph Estabrook Jones, who died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Ellison at Newton, Saturday morning, was an old time wholesale grocer of Boston, and also at one time, connected with the appraiser's department of the Custom House. He was born in Athol, Nov. 11, 1820, and came to Boston at an early age to enter business. After residing in Boston for several years, he moved to Newton, where he had lived for the last thirty years. He had not been in active business for some time. He is survived by a daughter and three sons.

The bride was unaccustomed and was given away by her father, Mr. D. Augustus Vander Veer. Mr. James William Cronwell was best man. A wedding breakfast followed, served by Berger, and the decorations were by Thorley. Among the guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. D. Augustus Vander Veer, Miss Vander Veer, Mr. and Mrs. F. Matters of fair play and of expediency seem to be in conflict in the location of poles on Boylston street.

On the old Boylston street, the Telephone Co. had a location for part of the street and the Gas Light Co. for the remainder. The street railway location carried a pole right the entire length of the street to the Street Railway Company. In the construction of the boulevard the old poles of the Telephone and Gas Companies so interfered with the roadway that a relocation became necessary, and an attempt was made to induce the three companies to join together on one line of poles. The street railway company was willing but the older companies refused. The city did not have the authority to compel the use of one line of poles but under its authority to regulate the height of wires, the offending companies were informed that a prohibitive height would be fixed if the matter was not adjusted, and at a hearing held last summer on the question of such relocation the three companies and the city came together and agreed to the joint use of but one line of poles. Thereupon the three companies made a contract for the building and maintenance of one line of poles for the entire length of the street, share and share alike, and the Telephone Company then asked for pole locations in that part of the street occupied by the Gas Co. and the Gas Co. asked for similar privileges in that part of the street occupied by the Telephone Company. This was virtually the understanding at the summer conference, but the necessity for hearings prevented favorable action at that time and the delay allowed another factor to enter the situation. This was the attempt on the part of the Gas Co. to prevent the lighting of Boylston street by the street railway company in accordance with the conditions of its location. The point was made by the parties opposed to the grant of pole locations, that such grant to the Gas Company, would, in case the matter went into court, be construed as a back down on the part of the city.

The present situation is very similar, except that the order granting pole locations to the Gas Company carries a rider stating that such location shall not be deemed a waiver of any rights the city may have to require the lighting of the street by the Railway Company. This is the order favored by the majority of the committee which has considered the subject and while the mayor believes that the locations should be granted as a matter of justice, he suggests that a delay will not be harmful to the city's interests.

NEWTON HOSPITAL.

The regular quarterly meeting of the trustees of the Newton hospital was held in the parlors of the Nurses' Home on the 30th ult, at 3:20 o'clock p.m. In the absence of the president, Mr. Hutchinson was elected chairman pro tem, and these were present Mesdames Coolidge, Gould, Leonard, Lodge, Nichols, Paine; Messrs. Bulleens, Bray Hardy, Hutchinson, Kelsey; Doctors Hunt, Keith, Porter.

Records of previous meetings being read and approved, the treasurer reported receipts as follows: From care and treatment of patients, $3,130.42; income of endowment funds, $1090; additional from Hospital Sunday collections, $3972.8; donations, free bed, and interest, $465.45; making a total of $5,083.15. Expenditures for the same period were, current expenses, $6600; repairs, improvements, et cetera, $693.59. Report of endowment funds and further detailed accounts were presented, and all accepted and filed.

The executive committee, through its secretary, Mr. Bray, reported a number of events for the first two months of the year 53, an increase of ten over the same period of last year. The appointment of Dr. G. H. Wilkins on the staff, and that of Dr. Thayer as bacteriologist were noted. An interesting table of comparative expenses and incomes from the various departments was prepared and submitted. Of the absent members of the board, letters regretting inability to attend had been received from Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Lowell, Messrs. Ellison, Shinn, Tyler.

Interested attention was given to the manner of distributing copies of the annual report just now coming from the hands of the publisher, and a large mailing list decided upon by which in addition to distribution among the various churches it is hoped that all interested may be able to see a copy a surplus of which is always to be obtained at this church to all regular and special services.

Boston, April 1. Pen pictures of prominent persons are not generally attempted unless the person drawing them is quite familiar with the subject. It is very evident, however, that the person who tried to convince his constituency that Mr. Dana of Newton was a man who depended more upon button holing than upon an argument made upon the floor when laboring for success, of measures did not understand the Newton representative nearly as well as do his constituents. As the writer has had occasion to point out in this correspondence within three months, there is no man upon the floor who carries more weight through his words in debate than Mr. Dana. There is a vast difference between methods in the House and in the Senate. The senator who rises in his place to make a set speech in favor of a measure does not do it for the sake of convincing his fellow senators, but is merely talking to the galleries. This comment does not apply, of course, to the off-hand explanation of the meaning of a measure which has not been discussed in the reading room, but to that class of measures upon which there is a division, and on which the senators very well know the minds of their associates. But it is almost an impossibility to canvass the 240 members of the House. Big corporations sometimes put a number of legislative agents to work and secure something in the nature of a canvass, but neither Mr. Dana nor any other House member would be likely to do anything of the sort. Therefore it is that the ability to stand upon one's feet, and clearly state a case so as to convince a majority of its worth counts immensely in the lower branch. The first requisite is confidence on the part of the members in the man who makes the plea, and this is just exactly the status of Mr. Dana. The members are sure of him; they believe in him, and a measure which he opposes is in a poor place, while one favored by him is fairly sure to be sustained. Whoever wrote the pen picture of Mr. Dana was deceived by the fact that the Newton man does not constantly appeal to the House in debate. When he talks there is a reason for it, and the subject is worth talking about. Within the next two months Mr. Dana is likely to make a set speech explaining the new draft of the corporation laws, which will be the most ambitious effort made by any member this year.

Mr. Warren's committee on Ways and Means displayed excellent judgment in not strenuously opposing a motion to recommit the bill releasing the State's interest in the land in the Back Bay district of Boston upon which stands the buildings of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. There is little doubt that after another hearing the bill will be again favorably reported and will pass.

Beginning today Mr. Dana's committee will have daily sessions until they have perfected the draft of the codified corporation laws. This is a large matter, and in all human probability its technical features will be such that after it has been explained by Senator Frost in the Senate and Representative Dana in the House it will pass without material amendment. Possibly, of course, the taxation features, whatever they may be in their final form, will be attacked by theorists on one side or another of this subject; but the majority can be depended upon to stand by the committee on the theory that a few members who have made a study of the subject are better fitted to pass upon it than a majority which has given it no particular attention.

On Monday the Senate concurred with the House in accepting the report, reference to the next General Court, on the petition of Mayor Weeks for legislation to exclude the city of Newton from the metropolitan water district until such a time as she takes water from the district; and the report, leave to withdraw on his petition that the city may be compensated for damages through the operations of the metropolitan water and sewerage board, and for legislation to prevent the laying of pipes, conduits, etc., in the city by the water and sewerage board without the Mayor's approval.

The annual report of the metropolitan park commission, of which Hon. E. B. Haskell of Newton is a member, was received on Monday. The board makes no particular recommendation as to Newton and vicinity, though the progress of the work in the Hemlock Gorge reservation is sketched.

An interesting question often arises in Wall street concerns the amount of capital that a large bank could raise at an hour's notice. That is, how much accommodation could a bank extend a customer unexpectedly confronted with pressing need or for the purpose of financing a big deal. A banker of international experience is authority for the statement that Wall street's facilities in this regard are superior to London's in that a large undertaking could be financed here with much greater dispatch than on the other side.

Said an officer of one of Wall street's most important banks: "It is no trouble at all nowadays to raise $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 within an hour. I have seen it done too often to think for a moment that it would tax seriously a large bank's resources. Five times that sum, say $25,000,000, can be raised at twenty-four hours' notice. It has been done. Of course no one bank could do it, but the great Wall street institutions are linked together in such a way as to provide almost unlimited resources for the financing of any safe deal. The large banks think little of $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 loans these days, whereas in former years they attracted general attention, for such large amounts were released only after considerable negotiation. But that has all changed now."—New York Mail and Express.

Pictures and the Eye.

Sir Thomas Lawrence, an eminent English painter and president of the Royal Academy, commanded the pictures of a young artist and then said to him: "You have around your room two or three rough, clever, but coarse Flemish sketches. If I were you, I would not allow my eye to become familiarized with any but the highest forms of art. If you cannot afford to buy good oil paintings, buy good engravings of great pictures, or have nothing at all upon your walls."

"You allow, in intercourse with your fellows, that 'evil communications corrupt good manners.' So is it with pictures. If you allow your eye to become familiar with what is vulgar in conception, however free and dashing the handling and however excellent the feeling for color, your taste will insensibly become depraved. Whereas, if you habituate your eye to look only on what is pure and grand or refined and lovely, your taste will insensibly become elevated."

AMUSEMENTS

Tremont Theatre—At the Tremont Theatre, Boston, last Monday, Mrs. Fiske opened a three weeks' engagement in Paul Heyse's "Mary of Magdala," and won an overwhelming success. The enthusiasm of the audience was unbounded and the Boston press has been practically a unit in praising the play, the production and the admirable work of Mrs. Fiske and her company. "Mary of Magdala" proves indisputably Mrs. Fiske's right to primacy among American actresses. The production is remarkable throughout, both in the richness and appropriateness of its interiors, and the atmospheric realism, accompanying the saving poetic idealism of its exteriors.

WRESTLING WITH RUSSIAN.

The Traveler Wanted a Towel and Finally Got It.

A. H. Savage Landor, in his book of travel, "Across Coveted Lands," relates an amusing railway incident that occurred in Russia while he was en route to Persia.

"Unable to get at my towels packed in my registered baggage and ignorant of the Russian language," he says, "I inquired of a polyglot fellow passenger what was the Russian word for towel, so that I could ask the guard for one. 'Palatinski,' said he, and I repeated 'palatinski, palatinski, palatinski,' so as to impress the word upon my memory. Having enjoyed a good wash and shampoo and dripping all over with water, I rang for the guard, and, sure enough, when the man came I could not recollect the word. At last it dawned upon me that it was 'palatinski' putting the inflection now on one syllable, then on the other, to make him understand me, and most flatly gave the same answer."

"This was incomprehensible to me until my polyglot fellow passenger came to my assistance. 'Do you know what you are asking the guard?' he said in convulsions of laughter. 'Yes, I am asking for a palatinski—a towel.'"

MEN'S FIVE SENSES.

CURIOS FACTS ABOUT THEM NOT GENERALLY KNOWN.

The Nerves of Taste Are Paralyzed by Either Very Hot or Very Cold Liquids—The Ear Is a Wonderful Organ—The Eye Easily Deceived.

For some unknown reason different parts of the tongue are assigned for the perception of different tastes. With the tip we taste sweet substances and salts, with the back we taste bitter things and with the sides we taste acids. The middle part of the tongue's surface has scarcely any sense of taste at all.

The long named substance parabromic sulphonide produces a most remarkable effect, for it gives a sense of sweetness to the point of the tongue and of bitterness to the back. Pure water tastes sweet after sulphate of magnesia.

We can only taste things in solution; hence if the tongue were perfectly dry it would not be affected by the strongest flavored substance in a dry state.

The taste nerves are paralyzed by very hot or very cold liquids. After drinking very hot or ice cold water we could not taste even such a substance as quinine. This fact supplies a useful hint for consumers of ill flavored medicines.

Smell, though the least useful, is the most delicate of all our senses. We can smell the three-hundred-millionth part of a grain of musk. No chemical analysis can detect such minute quantities. The most powerful microscope would not render a particle ten thousand times as large visible. We could not taste it were it many thousand times as large.

While we taste liquids, we can smell only gases. Fill your nostrils with eau de cologne, and you will experience no odor whatever. Fine as our sense of smell is, it has deteriorated immensely since the time when our forefathers were wild men. The Calmucks can smell an encampment twenty miles away; the Peruvians can distinguish all the South American races by their odor.

But smell is sense highly susceptible of cultivation even by the modern white man. Dealers in tea, spices, perfumes and drugs, in consequence of their training, can distinguish the faintest differences in odors.

The organ of hearing is one of the most marvelous pieces of mechanism in the body. In animals the external ear acts as a trumpet to collect the sound waves; in man it is little more than an ornament, but the internal ear is alike in both. So wonderful is its construction that we can distinguish sounds varying from forty to 4,000 vibrations per second. This feat is performed by a portion of the ear called the organ of Corti. What a wonderful organ that is may be understood from the fact that it consists of 5,000 pieces of apparatus, each piece being made up of two rods, one inner hair cell and four outer hair cells—that is, 35,000 separate parts. In some mysterious manner the rods, with other things, are tuned to different notes, and when they vibrate they cause the hairs to transmit an impulse to the nerve of hearing. To be musical, therefore, is to have a good organ of Corti.

Why is it that scratching a piece of glass with metal causes such an unpleasant sound? Because it is what is called the fundamental tone of the ear, which is very high. What the fundamental tone exactly is would take too much space to explain, but if you blow across the mouth of a bottle, a hollow glass, etc., you get its fundamental tone.

Fully Qualified.

The story is told of a man who by some unaccountable blunder by the appointing authority was made judge of a minor court.

He could neither read nor write, but that did not give him any uneasiness, although it aroused some fears of the breath of his wife.

"What are you going to do when there's any reading or writing comes into cases?" she timidly inquired.

"The folks that bring the readin' will read it, and the folks that want the writin' will write it," calmly replied his honor, "or if they can't I shall commit 'em. All I've got to attend to, Hitty, is the judgin', and I can do that as quick as anybody."

The Worship of the Moon.

The Moslem still slaps his hands at the sight of the new moon and mutters a prayer, although the Koran appears to forbid the practice in the words, "Bend not in adoration of the sun or moon." Herodotus accuses the ancient Persians of being moon worshippers, and, though they denied the practice, the following passage from the Zend Avesta would seem to be conclusive: "We sacrifice to the new moon, the holy and master of holiness; we sacrifice to the full moon, the holy and master of holiness."

Punctuality a Thief of Time.

Mr. Max Hecht writes: "On Thursday last week at 3:30, the hour fixed for the rehearsal of 'Trial by Jury,' I met Mr. Gilbert at the stage door of the Lyric and congratulated him on his punctuality. 'Don't,' he replied, 'I have lost more time through being punctual than through anything else.'—London M. A. P.

Sure Thing.

"Name the world's greatest composer," said the musical instructor. "Chloroform," promptly replied the young man who had studied medicine.

If society took better care of its poor out of jail there would be less need of jails or juries.—Boston Transcript.

INACTIVE OLD AGE.

More Conducive to Dreariness Than to Shortening Life.

There is far more evidence for the belief in the dreariness of old age after active work has been laid aside than for the shortening of life which results from the enforced inactivity. Two notable instances and perhaps freer from doubt than most as to whether it is not alone that kills and not the disease of old age or a more specific malady are those of Napoleon the Great and Bismarck.

The one lived six years in St. Helena, the other eight years at Friedrichsruh, each "eating out his heart." If ever there were men who ought on the supposition to have been killed by the total suspension of their activities, these two ought to have been, but it would be extremely difficult to show that they were. Though Napoleon was no more than fifty-three, yet it was the specific disease of cancer of the stomach of which he died, and the connection between his exiled loneliness and the direct cause of his death does not seem very apparent. On the other hand, Bismarck at the age of seventy-five, when he was dismissed from the chancellorship, could not have had a likelihood of more prolonged years than he actually achieved out of office even if he had continued in office until the end. A wise man if not too dyspeptic will never lose touch with actual life. There are old men with young hearts, and the elder when he has a young heart is perhaps the most delightful type humanity can show us.—Saturday Review.

Freak of Thunderbolt.

The annals of a French academy of science tell of a tailor's adventure with a thunderbolt. He lived in a house provided with two chimneys—one for a fireplace and the other for a stove, the latter not in use. During a thunderstorm a tremendous report was heard, and everybody thought that the house had been struck by lightning. Instantly a blue flaming ball dropped into the fireplace and rolled out into the room, seemingly about six inches above the floor. The excited tailor ran around the room, the ball of fire playing about his feet. Suddenly it rose above his head and moved off toward the stovepipe hole in the ceiling, which had a piece of paper pasted over it. The ball moved straight through the paper and up the chimney. When near the top, it exploded and tore the chimney into thousands of fragments. The sight of the debris left by the explosion showed the family what would have been the consequences had it exploded while on its gyrating passage through the room.

Learn From the Animals.

Learn of the animals. The horse teaches us to be silent under punishment and patient in suffering. From the lion we learn bravado. From the cat we learn to prowl at night. From the dog we learn how to be faithful to a friend. The elephant teaches us abstinence. The camel teaches us how to be calm in adversity. The hippopotamus teaches us repose. The shy little rabbit teaches us how to die without a murmur. The antelope teaches us the foolishness of idle curiosity. The boar teaches us the evils of gluttony. The ant teaches us industry and wisdom in council. The hen teaches us to go in out of the wet (yet I have seen fowl hens which did not know the difference between sunshine and rain). Some men might learn of hogs how to be musical, therefore, is to have a good organ of Corti.

Why is it that scratching a piece of glass with metal causes such an unpleasant sound? Because it is what is called the fundamental tone of the ear, which is very high. What the fundamental tone exactly is would take too much space to explain, but if you blow across the mouth of a bottle, a hollow glass, etc., you get its fundamental tone.

The ear is a deceptive organ, and it is often a matter of guesswork to tell whence a sound comes. Indeed, if you place the open hands in front of your ears and curve them backward sounds produced in front will appear to come from behind.

Human beings and monkeys see most things with both eyes. Our whole field of vision extends over 180 degrees or half a circle. The middle half of this we see with both eyes together, but the quarter at each side is seen only with one eye.

All other animals see most things with one eye only. Scarcely ever can they fix both eyes on anything at the same time. But there are considerable variations. A bulldog, for instance, somewhat closely approaches the condition of a monkey. The larger the pupil the greater the quantity of light which enters the eye. Large pupilled people, therefore, see the world in a brighter and more cheerful state than those with small pupils. They can see things better in the dusk or at night.

As every one knows from the optical illusion pictures, the eyes are easily deceived. A white square on a black ground appears larger than a black square of the same size on a white ground. Red near yellow looks redder; blue near yellow looks bluer; white near black looks whiter.

Touch really includes several senses. Thus there are spots on the skin which feel heat only, spots which feel only cold, spots which feel only pain, spots which feel only pressure and spots which feel tickling. These spots are supplied with nerves capable of doing only one particular duty. The sensations of the skin are grouped by physiologists into three kinds—touch, pain and temperature. The skin which covers a ear has only one kind of sensation. It can feel neither pressure (touch) nor temperature, but perceives pain very acutely. The tongue is the most sensitive of all parts to touch, the forehead and elbow to heat or cold.

We only dream sights and sounds. We never dream tastes or smells. If we dream of a flower garden, we see the flowers, but do not smell them. If we dream of a dinner, we see the dishes, but do not taste them.

Found Them Hard to Raise.

A great gormand who had a passion for shellfish inherited a fine estate and a large sum of money. He had been extravagant, and his friends were greatly rejoiced at his legacy. Mr. H. Barry in "Ivan at Home" tells what to use the money was devoted:

I went to town one day and soon learned that the prince was in his usual impious condition.

"Where has your legacy gone?" I asked.

"Why," he replied, "you know that I am very fond of lobsters, and, having a river on my estate, I thought I would try to acclimate them there, but unfortunately I have spent all the legacy in the attempt without succeeding. I quite forgot the water is not salt."

Short Great Men.

Oliver Cromwell, Claverhouse and Mehmet Ali must be content to take it out in brains, for they all lacked inches. Two of these great names naturally suggest that of another famous soldier and usurper, Napoleon Bonaparte. Le petit corporal, as his men lovingly called him, stood about five feet (French) in his stockings, say 5 feet 1 1/4 in English. In stature the Iron Duke beat him by about six inches, while the 5 feet 4 of Nelson placed him midway or thereabouts between the Victor and the victim of Waterloo.

After It.

"Will your employer be in after dinner?" inquired the visitor of the office boy.

"Nope," was the ironic reply.

"What makes you think so?" was the next query.

"Coz," replied the boy as he prepared to dodge, "that's what he went after."—Judge.

An Obedient Boy.

Papa—Where is my new pipe?

Small Son—I broke it.

Papa—See here! I told you that if you took my pipe again to blow bubbles with.

Small Son—I wasn't blowin' bubbles with it. I was only smokin' it.

LITERARY NOTES.

American life from Florida to Oregon, and the outer world from Germany to China were drawn upon in the making of the April number of the National Magazine of Boston. The five strong stories run the gamut of the emotions, from grim tragedy in "The Shadow of Lachesis" to happy comedy in "The Disinherited Fathers." Articles in the lighter vein are "Dream Travels," woman's naive confessions; "A Castle of Great Americans," the remarkable story of a little Indiana town that has produced more famous men than any other place in America; "California's First Native Governor," and "A Contested Partnership," the story of how a man and a robin raised strawberries together. In more serious vein are "The New Socialism and the Trusts," a very striking paper by M. A. Lane; "How Women Are Winning the Ballot," with new portraits of Susan B. Anthony made on her eighty-third birthday; "The Prospective Annexation of Mexico," by S. Glen Andrews; "The Revolt from the Machine," in the series, ("Art Movements of Today"); personal recollections of President Andrew Johnson, by James Matlock Scovell; "Germany," and "The Watch on the Rhine," and "The New Berlin, a Monument to Wilhelm II," and "Louisville," an appreciation of the greatness of the South's northern gateway. The departments,—"Affairs at Washington and Phases of American Affairs"—are spirited and timely.

The magazine is lavishly illustrated.

Death of Patrolman Elwell.

Patrolman Fred E. Elwell of the police department died at his home on Central street, Auburndale, last Friday evening, after a brief illness.

Mr. Elwell was years of age, and had been a member of the police force since '89. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Funeral services were held from the Congregational church on Hancock street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the flowers were many and beautiful.

The services were of a simple character, comprising prayer, Scripture reading and a brief eulogy and were conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Charles M. Southgate. The pallbearers were patrolmen Bates, Allen, Kimball and Tainter.

As the funeral procession left the church it was met by a detail of 36 patrolmen under command of Lieut. Fred M. Mitchell, Sergts. T. C. Clay, John Purcell and C. T. Bartlett, who acted as an escort to the Newton cemetery, where the interment took place.

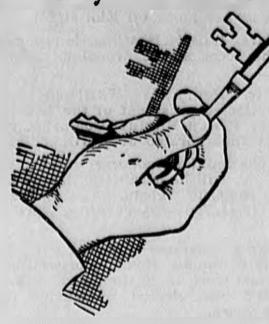

During the hours of the funeral the stores in Auburndale suspended business and the flags on the public buildings were put at half staff.

Preparing for Spring.

Now is the time for all housekeepers to take preliminary steps in that important task—spring cleaning. Use Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol generally throughout the house, especially in the cellar, about the sink, the bathroom closet and for clearing the entire drainage system of all greasy, decomposing accumulations. Sulpho-Naphthol is a great spring remedy for these places, for it kills all disease germs, foul and noxious odors, etc.

Then when the warm weather comes there will be no active germs to breed disease. Sulpho-Naphthol is the most valuable agent the housekeeper has to maintain Clean, Healthy Homes.

Key That Fits

"Half my patients need more iron," said "our doctor."

Iron makes rich, red blood.

Yet it is very hard to give iron so it will do any good.

There are thousands of keys in the world—only one or two unlock your door. So we know of only one or two combinations of iron that seem to do the work.

By far the most generally useful prescription we know of is Vinol.

It has helped a great many cases in this town.

It contains the medicinal qualities of cod liver oil, iron—that-can-be-digested, and a little table wine.

It works wonders in weak women, pale children, old people, and any run-down condition. Money back if you want it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, Price 75c per bottle.

Hall's Family Pills are the best. "A Portfolio of Rare Views."

Thirty-three magnificent reproductions of photographic views of various scenes along the Fitchburg Division of the Boston and Maine Railroad is what the new portfolio consists of. The delightful panoramic scenery of the Hoosac Country and Deerfield Valley, the dashing waterfalls and towering mountains are all aptly portrayed in this new addition to the Boston and Maine's Art Library.

This book is entitled "The Charles River to the Hudson," and will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by the General Passenger Department, Boston and Maine Railroad, Boston. The complete set consisting of the other five portfolios, and this new one, will be mailed upon receipt of thirty-six cents.

Students' Concert.

"Sambo and Blake," otherwise known as "The Two Boy Wonders of Boston," residents of Newton, made their fifth appearance at Eliot hall, before large audience and many of Newton's most fashionable residents. They repeated their amusing and interesting program which made such a hit before the fashionable set at Whitney hall, Coolidge Corner, Brookline, and kept their audience in good humor from the beginning to the close of their program. Misses Schell and Phillips of Boston rendered excellent music.

WEAK IN THE ALPHABET.

Some Letters That Men Can Never Learn to Make.

"Why is it that with some men some letters of the alphabet are harder to make than others and, in fact, that there are some letters that some men never learned how to make?" asked a young man who takes considerable interest in the matter of handwriting in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "It is a rather singular fact that nearly every man outside of the experts is weak on one or more of the letters in the English alphabet. Sometimes the letter involved is a capital letter; sometimes it is of the smaller kind; sometimes it is one letter and sometimes another. In any event, you will find few men who are exempt from the failing referred to.

"I know of one man who in spite of the fact that he does a great deal of writing has never learned how to make a capital P. He simply makes a stinger at it, and, as a rule, the result of his efforts will look more like a small p than like the capital P. I know another man who can't make a small t to save his life. He can never get the lower part of the letter below the line. He makes it look like a clubfooted b instead of an f. There are others who, when they try to make the small b, give it the long shank, and it looks more like the letter f. It is rather singular that these traits should hang on to a man's writing for a lifetime, but they do it just the same, and if you make a few inquiries among your friends and acquaintances you will find that but few of them are exempt from this fault.

"It is very much like the habit of spelling certain words incorrectly. Many men who are rated as first class spellers pass through life without ever in a single instance spelling certain words correctly. It is due to habit largely. If you should ask them how to spell the word, they would tell you, but, when they go to write it, that is quite different, and they will get it wrong every time. So they know, too, how certain letters should be made, but they simply can't put them down on paper. It is a curious but common fault."

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

Birds never eat fireflies and really seem to shun their vicinity.

North American reindeer usually select an old doe for their leader.

The temperature of a swallow's body is extraordinarily high, no less than 112 degrees F.

Cats and beasts of prey reflect fifty times as much light from their eyes as human beings.

The average lake trout lays 6,000 eggs each season, and the whitefish a greater number.

The female English viper does not lay eggs. She hatches them internally and brings forth her young alive.

Parrots are usually vegetarians, though the Keen parrots of New Zealand have developed a fondness for sheep.

Garfish, sunfish, basking sharks and dolphins all have the habit of swimming with their eyes above the surface of the water.

Your Signature.

"I should be pleased to exchange cards with you, Mr. Barrow," said Charles Willips, extending his. They had met for the first time. "I'm sorry I have no cards with me," said Barrow. "Allow me to write my address in your memorandum book." "Do you know that is a very dangerous thing to do?" Willips remarked. "It cost me $240 once. I had the habit of carrying my cards and signing my name in a new friend's notebook, just as you are about to do in mine, always on a blank page. One day, after a convivial evening, I was presented with an I.O.U. for that sum, duly signed by myself. It was impossible to dispute it. I had to pay up. But I have never since been so free with my autograph." "By George, I never thought of that!" cried Barrow. "Suppose you write my name down yourself?"—New York Press.

Improving Upon Nature.

"What on earth are you doing here, Tommy?" asked his mother, peering into the darkness of the henhouse, whence had been coming for five minutes or more a series of dismal squawks, accented by a loud flapping of wings.

"I am trying," said Tommy, "who seemed to be doing something with a knotted rope, "to fix this rooster so his alarm won't go off before 7 o'clock tomorrow morning."—Current Literature.

My Father's Trees.

Upon the sun-warmed turf your shadows fall

In dark green masses, trees so loved of him,

My Father, to whose patient care ye all

Owed grace and thrift and beauty. He did trim

With cunning hand your branches interlaced

And smoothed your grey-brown boles with loving art.

He guided all your growth. And when at last

Your luscious fruits had ripened, prou'd his heart.

O trees, beneath your shade I stand alone,

I see your beauty dimly through my tears.

He who made all my summers glad is gone,

I miss him sadly through the passing years.

grant of $750 for city expenses; recommending that bids be received on finishing upper story of High school; recommending $1125 for partially furnishing Manet road fire station; recommending transfer of $48.28 for salary of Captain of Police and approving recommendations for $4000 for construction of Windsor road, $11,500 for furnishing Mason and Burr schools, for sewers in Montvale road, Cherry place, Adams avenue, Foster street and Hale street.

These reports were adopted.

ORDERS.

These orders were adopted: Taking land for sewers in Adams avenue, Foster street, authorizing new construction in Adams avenue, Foster street and Montvale road, transferring $948.28 for salary of Captain of Police, granting $750 for city expenses, $11,500 for furnishing Mason and Burr schools, authorizing Public Buildings Commissioner to obtain bids for finishing upper story in High school, authorizing Treasurer to receive $641.20 and Street Commissioner to expend same on Devon road and Hillsboro terrace, making certain sewer charges, and granting attachments to N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. on Auburn, Prince and Webster streets and Langley road.

An order making certain awards on account of Hammond brook improvement was referred to the Finance committee.

Orders for taking land for sewers in Cherry place and Hale street were recommended to the Committee on Public Works, after Alderman Lothrop had stated that it was bad policy to vote on these matters at the time of hearing and that the protests of citizens should be considered. Alderman Barber also said that the Board of Health should be represented when hearings on matters requested by them were held.

An order relative to crediting abutters with amounts paid for sewer charges when the regular sewer assessments were subsequently levied was adopted after a brief explanation by the City Solicitor.

MANET ROAD FIRE STATION. In response to questions by Alderman Saltonstall as to reducing the amount for furnishing and equipping the Manet road fire station from $2325 to $1125, Alderman Mellen stated that he desired to look into the matter, as the plan contemplated the removal of a part of the apparatus now at Newton Highlands to Chestnut Hill.

Alderman Chesley said it would take some time to make the necessary changes and early action was desirable.

Alderman Saltonstall said the matter was gone into very carefully by the Public Works Committee. The Chemical now at the Highlands was to be transferred to Chestnut Hill, while the truck at the Highlands was to be changed over so as to answer for a Chemical as well. The light water pressure at Chestnut Hill makes the use of a combination wagon undesirable. The station is nearly completed and work should not be delayed. He then moved to amend the order to the former sum of $2325.

Alderman Mellen said that the men had stated some objections to him among them being the fact that the truck was not adapted for the proposed changes.

Alderman Saltonstall said that the matter had been carefully considered by the Chief of Fire Dept., who ought to be better posted than the men. He also criticized the Finance Committee for reviewing the work of the Public Works Committee as it evidently meant to do.

Alderman Mellen did not believe that two weeks delay would be of much consequence and he did not agree with the statement that the Finance Committee was to only consider the financial phase of the question. In any event, as an individual alderman he would claim the right to investigate the matter.

Alderman Barber said the Committee on Public Works approved the recommendations of the Chief as being in the line of economy and efficiency and the reputation of the Chief gave confidence in his recommendations. The order should be placed at once.

Alderman Webster said that the board ought not to cripple the fire apparatus in Ward 5.

Alderman Saltonstall then withdrew his amendment and the order appropriating $1125 for the purpose was adopted.

POLICE INDEMNITY.

When the order appropriating $650 to indemnify Chief of Police Tarbox for expenses of police investigation was offered, Alderman Ensign asked for the reading of the statute quoted in the Mayor's communication. After this had been done, Alderman Ensign stated that in his opinion the law did not apply to this case. The committee on Claims were divided on the matter, two lawyers believing that this was an illegal appropriation of money. The principle it is based on is permissive and not mandatory and the decisions indicate that it is rarely granted to a salaried official. The acquittal mentioned in the law must also come after a legal trial and the hearing where this expense had been incurred was held simply to enable the Mayor to make up his mind. Alderman Ensign was sorry for the Chief but he was perfectly satisfied that he should have to oppose it as a matter of law.

Alderman Saltonstall agreed that the Chief was to be congratulated on the outcome of the investigation. He believed that as a matter of law there was extreme doubt as to the authority to make this appropriation. The investigation was a personal act of the Mayor and was not ordered by the city within the meaning of the statute. The legal hearing would have to come after suspension by the Mayor. This council was secured by the Chief on his own accord and while the Chief was placed in a hard position the city is not justified in indemnifying him.

Alderman Mellen conceded at the outset that the Chief had no legal claim on the city, if it was not deemed wise to indemnify him. He had examined the law and came to the opinion that the indemnity was plainly authorized. The hearing held by the Mayor was clearly a trial and he read an act of 1900 to sustain that point. The manner of acting indicated by the charter was not the only way in which action could be taken by the Mayor. Over 30 serious charges were filed against the Chief in his official capacity and was the Mayor to suspend him and brand him as possibly guilty without investigation?

The hearing might have been private but the public would not have been satisfied and nothing short of a full and free investigation such as was held could be thought of. The petitioners had employed counsel and as the City Solicitor was the official advisor of the Mayor the Chief had to employ private counsel and it was entirely proper that he should do so.

$650 is a reasonable amount to pay,

although the bill was much larger when presented. The committee had deemed $50 a day for the eight days of trial and $250 for preparation as a reasonable amount.

As a matter of precedent Alderman Mellen believed that it was far worse for the city to say it would not pay such bills as it would paralyze the service of the city and he believed the city should stand back of its officials.

Alderman Saltonstall said that the Chief should have come to the board and asked for counsel if he had desired the city to be responsible, and there was not a decision where expenses had been paid by the city where the hearing had not been ordered by the city.

Alderman Lothrop said he had originally been opposed to the order and still felt that the city was not legally liable and suggested that the City Solicitor address the board.

City Solicitor then addressed the board at length giving his opinion that the hearing held was a trial with in the meaning of the statute, and that the city had the power to indemnify if it chose to do so.

The order was then adopted, Alderman Ensign, Saltonstall and President Weed casting the only negative votes.

Two orders for appropriations for constructing Windsor road were offered and explained by Alderman Lothrop, one for $1800 charged to the tax levy and one for $2200 charged to the appropriation for Drains and Culverts. The orders were adopted.

The ordinance increasing the number of library trustees to seven was passed to be ordained.

An order for public hearings before the Committee on petitions for Innholders, Common Victuallers and Sixth Class Liquor Licenses was the subject of considerable discussion and after being amended so as to require applicants for Common Victuallers to appear before the Committee was adopted.

The order authorizing Mayor to sell certain lands near Boyd pond park was adopted after a few questions of Alderman Hubbard had been answered.

And at 10.21 p. m. the board adjourned to Tuesday evening, April 21, the hearing previously assigned for April 20 being postponed until the 21st.

Christian Endeavor Note.

Inseparable Words.

"Why," replied the stranger next to him, "it's 'u-m-i-t-t'—say, my friend, I wouldn't advise you to call a man a liar of any sort in a letter. You'll get yourself in trouble!"—Philadelphia Press.

Police Paragraphs.

Judge Kennedy read a severe lecture to the Italians this week on the prevalence of the practice of carrying dangerous weapons. His honor said that the practice was altogether too common among them, and that he was determined to do all in his power to put a stop to it. To prove that he was in earnest, he imposed a fine of $40 on Pasquale Ottaviano, who was arrested by Patrolmen Marriner and Groth, charged with threatening Vespa Sabbatino, the proprietor of an Italian boarding house at Newton Centre, with a loaded revolver. After making his threat, Ottaviano ran away and was found in the wash room of one of the dormitories at the Newton Theological Seminary, where he had taken refuge. Ottaviano's brother, the only witness for the defense, claimed the ownership of the weapon which he had since thrown away. He was given a rigorous reprimand by Judge Kennedy, who told the witness that he was convinced there was not a word of truth in all that he had said. Ottaviano produced a good sized roll of bills and paid his fine with the remark that "he was going to be good now."

Sawin of Cambridge, the well known Harvard football player, was the best man. The wedding march from Loehengrin was played by Mr. Kenneth Usher of Cambridge.

The bride's gown was white peau de cygne and she wore the usual veil. The maid of honor was gowned in pink liberty silk and the bridesmaids wore white organdie with pink chiffon trimmings.

A large reception was held from eight to ten, fully 300 guests being present. Mr. and Mrs. Savory were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ross, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett S. Savory. Messrs. George W. Ross of Newtonville, Albert F. Whittemore of Newton, Frank Scholfield of Brighton and Edward M. Hill of Boston were the ushers.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Savory will reside at 19 Elmwood park, Newtonville, where they will be at home after June 1st.

Horse Show.

It will be well worth while making the trip to Boston during the week of the horse show to see the rejuvenated thoroughbred Frank Gold or Ten Dollar as he is now called by Henry L. de Bussigny. This celebrated riding master has accomplished many wonderful feats with horses but his achievement with Ten Dollar is a story in real life that rivals Black Beauty.

THE PLAYHOUSE.

MAJESTIC THEATRE, April 13.—The Great Kellar.
TREMONT THEATRE, April 13.—"Mary of Magdalene."
KEITH'S THEATRE April 13.—Vaudeville.
COLONIAL THEATRE, April 13.—"The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast."
MUSIC HALL, April 13.—"Busy Izzy."
GRAND OPERA HOUSE, April 13.—"Sis Hopkins."
CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENTS, Huntington Chambers, April 11, at 2:30.

Keith's Theatre—The principal feature of the Keith show for the week commencing April 13, will be Horace Goldin, the famous magician and illusionist, who has just returned from Europe for a brief tour of the Keith circuit. Among the noted entertainers are Ed Favor and Edith Sinclair, who will make revival of their old sketch, "The Maguires," with all the original songs, etc., Hacker and Lester, comedy and trick bicycle riders; Murphy and Slater, "real coon" singers, dancers and comedians, whom many consider cleverer than Williams and Walker; Mrs. Wynne-Winslow, a "society" singer; Billy Van, blackface joker and parody singer; Hal Godfrey and company, in a new comedy sketch, "A Very Bad Boy," and Princess Chinquilla, an Indian maiden who is an excellent musician and vocalist.

Colonial Theatre—Only four more weeks remain before Klaw and Erlanger's magnificent spectacle, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" will terminate its record breaking engagement at the Colonial Theatre which it has occupied since Feb. 2 last making a run which for financial results completely eclipses the record for New England theatricals. May 2, which will be the closing night of its phenomenal run in the Hub promises to be a duplication of its opening night in the matter of interest. An extra matinee is scheduled for Patriot's Day which will be celebrated on April 20 and the usual matinees will be given.

Majestic Theatre—A week of bewildering mystery is in store for the patrons of the New Majestic Theatre next week when the renowned magician, the Great Kellar, will begin his annual visit to Boston, appearing each evening during the week and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Kellar is the most celebrated conjuror in the world, and his program in Boston will include a series of original experiments in sleight of hand, including the newest, "The Crystal Ladder," "The Demon Globe," "Old Glory," "The Dying Enigma" and that great hypnotic wonder, "The Levitation of Princess Karnac," a daring and bewildering illusion. Besides these, there are innumerable sights of hand marvels, the wonderful exhibition of second sight, and dozens of similarly attractive offerings. Robert B. Mantell in his new play, "The Dagger and the Cross," will begin a week's engagement Monday, April 20.

Grand Opera House—Next week at the Grand Opera House will be seen Rose Melville in that delightful pastoral comedy drama, "Sis Hopkins," which is now in the fourth season of its remarkable success. Miss Melville has already appeared at this theatre three times in the title role of this play, and it will be recalled with what marked favor audiences filling the vast auditorium nightly have received her. The character of "Sis Hopkins" is original with Miss Melville, and no artist yet has been able to duplicate her quaint mannerisms, the odd, bolting speech, the humorous sayings, teetering walk, etc. There will be the customary matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Waranteed Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded. J. G. Kilburn, tf.

Financial.

Pessimistic sentiment seems to be growing, and the professional traders allow no opportunity to pass to depress prices by magnifying all temporary developments that can in any way be used to create bearish feeling.

The tightness of money is held up as the chief reason why prices should decline, but it is safe to predict that we have seen about the worst and that future developments in this respect must be for the better. In fact many brokers believe that money rates will very soon be normal again.

Curtis and Sederquist letter.

The market has been halting on sundry uncertain developments of temporary nature, of which the fullest possible use has been made by professional traders. The Southern Pacific imbroglio is the chief of these, with alleged apprehension over the Northern Securities decision a good second.

The latter will not become an active force before autumn; but it may be conceded that the former, if in dead earnest, contains unpleasant possibilities, such as a break in Union Pacific if not the whole railroad list. But that such an internece warfare will be allowed to be fought to a finish by magnates still mindful of "Terrible Thursday," is not to be credited.

Money is the other temporarily adverse factor. We say, "temporarily," advisedly; for it is good expert opinion that a marked relaxation in rates will come in the immediate future, on the eastward turn in the drift of currency and that, as indicated by the hints from the Senate currency committee now working overtime, before long some radical repairs will be made to our monetary mechanism whereby present periodic disturbances will be finally abolished.

Scarcity of money wherewith to lubricate the ever more swiftly turning wheels of industry is the only real flaw in the situation and one that should not exist if political and financial wisdom were synonymous. —Corey, Milliken & Co. letter.

Boston Museum—Playgoers from all over New England are delighted that there will be another opportunity of witnessing "A Country Girl," the delightful musical comedy from London which scored such an unquestioned triumph when it was given at the Boston Museum earlier in the present season. At the greatest of expense this has finally been arranged for, and on Monday, April 13, Easter Monday, "A Country Girl," will return to the Boston Museum for a limited engagement. It will be given by precisely the same star cast of comedians and singers that was seen at Daly's Theatre in New York last fall when the piece was given for its first performance on this side of the Atlantic and which came to the Boston Museum for its other engagement. It should be remembered that this return engagement is positively a limited one. Only a few more weeks remain for this historic playhouse, and then it will be torn down to make way for a business block, so that to "A Country Girl" falls the honor of being the last musical attraction to be seen upon the stage where so many noted productions of the sort have been given in the past.

Boston Music Hall—George Sidney and his big company of pretty girls and well liked comedians, in the new musical farce, "Busy Izzy," will be the attraction which comes to Boston Music Hall next Monday afternoon for a week's engagement, with the usual daily matinees. "Busy Izzy" promises a whole lot of good fun and catchy music, with rich wardrobes and slightly environment as a frame. Theatregoers will not expect much else when they read that the new vehicle introduces Izzy as the proprietor of a big department store, in which, as its head, Izzy will be busy in the role of floor-walker, cashier, proprietor and general overseer. Many pleasing specialties of an entertaining nature are introduced and the fun flows fast and furious during the two acts. Stella Mayhew in "On the Suwanee River" is booked to follow "Busy Izzy."

Newtonville, Mass.

Dear Sirs: The cost of labor in painting a house is three times the cost of the paint. You seem to save a little when you buy a lower priced paint, but you certainly add to the cost of labor when you pay for spreading more gallons.

You don't even save on the paint. Devoe and Zinc costs a little more than mixed paints, but it takes fewer gallons, and the cost is actually less.

Wears longer too—longer than mixed paints, longer than lead and oil.

You don't save a cent.

Mr. C. Loch, a painter in Magnolia, Miss., writes:

After years of experiments with mixed paints, I find that your paint covers more surface to the gallon than any I have ever used. For density and wearing qualities it cannot be excelled.

Compare with lead and oil: A house belonging to the late President of the Croton River Bank, at Brewsters, N. Y., cost $31,000 was painted with lead and oil in '84 at a cost of $400. In '87—three years—it was repainted with Devoe at a cost of $350. In '97 the house was still all right.

Results: lead and oil cost $400, wear three years: Devoe—cost $350, wear ten years. Yours truly,

F. W. Devoe & Co.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The mid-winter drill of the battalion Saturday afternoon, in the armory was witnessed by over 2400 people. The exhibition was one of the best given by the school battalion, the execution of the manual and carrying out of the various manoeuvres reflecting credit on the instructor, Capt. Ernest R. Springer of company C, 5th regiment. The competitive drill of the junior and senior squads were particularly close, and it was not until both had appeared on the floor several times that the judges were able to select the winners. The program opened at 2 o'clock with music by the school band under direction of H. B. Owens, and included setting-up exercises by battalion, drill by the signal squad, junior competitive drill in charge of Lieut. P. A. Early, artillery detachment drill, senior competitive drill in charge of Adj't. M. S. Kimball and evening parade. The prizes in the competitive drills, which were awarded by Rev. G. M. Boynton of the school committee, were won by the following: Junior squad First prize, Howard medal, by Priv B C Case; second by E Kenway; third by R. Wales. Senior squad—First prize, Fliske medal, by Corp G. B. Marks; second by E C Tolman; third by E M. Very. The judges were Lieut Col G. H. Benyan, M. V. M.; Capt C. E. Hamilton, company F, 5th regiment, M. V. M., and Capt James A. Smythe, battery A, M. V. M. Following the drill there was dancing the floor being in charge of C P Slocum.

The Problem of a Tired Mother.

The funny papers have told, time and again, how it makes a man feel to be shut up alone with the children even for a few hours.

It's no wonder that nerve troubles attack the mother for she has the children all the time. How can she help being nervous, especially while the little ones are making such constant drafts on her energy?

No woman can endure the strain of her housework and two or three little ones unless her digestive powers are of an unusual order. She can't manufacture force enough to stand the strain.

We can suggest one thing that will surely help her and it isn't a drug poison either. It is Vinol, made by a remarkable new process from that wonderful remedy, cod liver oil, a true tonic.

Money back if you don't find this true.

Three lawyers in the board of aldermen evidently consider that the mayor is not the "city" of Newton, from their votes against the indemnity to Chief Tarbox. The whole question centered on the point whether the hearing held by the mayor was ordered by the "city." A common sense view of the matter would indicate that the mayor was fully as much the "city" as the board of aldermen. These legal gentlemen say that a hearing held to enable the aldermen to make up their mind is proper ground for indemnity, while a hearing held before the mayor to enable him to make up his mind on the same subject is not. Fortunately a majority of the board took the broader view of the matter.

Judge Kennedy will receive the approval of the entire city in his attempts to discourage the carrying of revolvers and other dangerous weapons by some of our foreign neighbors. Heavy fines, freely imposed, will touch them in a tender spot and help them to take more kindly to American customs.

The pressure on our columns is so great this week that several interesting articles are postponed to our next issue. Among them is an announcement from Congressman Powers of an examination for appointment to Annapolis, to be held in May.

WOMEN THEN AND NOW.Has Their Position Improved Much During the Past Century?

It is sometimes difficult to realize the changes that are constantly taking place in the thoughts and opinions of mankind except as we observe the past through the enlightenment of the present. In no department of life is this change more conspicuous than in the opinions concerning the position of women in the affairs of the world.

As an illustration of the position assigned to women in this country 100 years ago the following, taken from a bound volume of the files of the Berkley Intelligencer, published at Martinsburg, Va., from April 17, 1790, to May 27, 1801, will be of interest:

"To be sold, for 5 shillings, my wife, Jane Heeband. She is stoutly built, stands firm and is sound, wind and limb. She can sow and reap, hold a plow and drive a team and would answer any stout, able man that can hold a tight rein, for she is hard mouthed and headstrong, but if properly managed would either lead or drive as tame as a rabbit. Her husband parts with her because she is too much for him. Inquire of the printer, N. B.—All her clothes will be given with her."

Is it not quite likely that 100 years from now the student of history will look with amazement upon the fact that a great republic, claiming to have a government "for the people, of the people and by the people," should refuse one-half its people, and that the most moral and law abiding half, all voice in its affairs; that a government claiming to be founded upon the "consent of the governed" and having for its battle cry, "Taxation without representation is tyranny," proceeded to govern its women without their consent and taxed them without allowing them representation, even after they had protested against the injustice for fifty years?

Can any one conceive of a greater inconsistency than the position of the women in this country, so far as their political rights are concerned?

There is still lurking in the minds of many much of that old opinion concerning women expressed in the above advertisement, written 100 years ago.

ELNORA M. BABCOCK.

MARRIED WOMEN BARRED.The Postmaster General Denies Them Reappointment In His Service.

"It is hereby ordered that on and after Dec. 1, 1902, a woman classified employee in the postal service who shall change her name by marriage shall not be reappointed."

The foregoing order was issued Nov. 23 by Postmaster General Payne.

The Tribune hopes that the first woman who loses her place because of marriage will appeal to the supreme court to learn from the highest authority whether it is constitutional to discriminate against a married woman. If there is a law making marriage of women a crime to be punished by forfeiture of position when the marriage of men in like position is taken no notice of, let us know it and know also whether such a law is constitutional. Perhaps there is nothing in the constitution to prevent such an arbitrary exercise of official power unless it be that "cruel and unusual punishments may not be inflicted," but that there shall be no class legislation is in the very essence of a republican form of government.

A possible loophole is suggested in the wording of the order. A few women have married without changing their names, and in still fewer cases it has been the husband who has changed his name and taken that of the wife, and occasionally a woman has had her name made her legal name. So this alternative is suggested if legal redress cannot be had.

Such a ruling sets a premium on deception and subterfuge and, moreover, will act as a barrier against marriage when it is for the best interest of the community that marriage should be encouraged. As a rule the woman married to a man who can support her nicely in exchange for her devoting her time to the interests of home will not be after a chance to work for herself, especially in the subordinate and monotonous positions which alone are open to women under the government. The woman who has been able to earn a good living and, as is the case almost universally with women in government offices, been able to support others cannot be blamed if, when assuming the marriage relation, she wishes to try the temper and disposition of her husband awhile before throwing away her financial freedom and independence.—Woman's Tribune.

Women Not Allowed to Think.

Woman has always been a greater slave to conventionality than man because she has been man's property. In the midcentury past she did not dare even to have a brain. It was "unwomanly." Aurore Dupin had to call herself George Sand, and Mary Ann Evans called herself George Elliot. These great women, towering above the petty masculine intellects of their time, did not dare to let their readers know they were not men. Why? Because everybody believed they should be housekeeping and rearing children and not writing books—Socialist Spirit.

Woman Runs Ahead of Her Ticket.

Mrs. Helen L. Grenfell, who has served two terms so acceptably as state superintendent of public instruction in Colorado, was re-elected on the Democratic ticket at the recent election in spite of the "Republican wave" that swept the state. Her name when first proposed four years ago was endorsed by a long list of college professors and prominent educators, and the excellent service that she has given has commanded public respect and esteem.

HOW HUSBANDS SHOP.A Blouse That It Was Certain Would Not Please the Lady.

The pleasures of shopping are as rigorously denied to "mere man" as are the advantages of whistling to fair woman. The decree, being nature's own, is universal, and the attempts made to contravene it are few and unsuccessful. An exception, more apparent than real, was made a few days ago by an uxorious Berlin husband intent on presenting his better half with a new blouse. He hurriedly entered one of the first shops in the capital and confided his intention to the graceful young lady assistant. "I want a blouse—a good one. You understand. It must be silk—the best silk."

"May I ask what color you prefer?" inquired the superior young saleswoman, with a smile.

"Oh, I'm not particular about the color, but I may say that it may cost from $0 to $40 marks."

"And the cut?"

"The cut? Well, I really don't much care. After all, it comes to the same thing."

"May I ask about the lady for whom it is destined?"

"Why, she is my wife, of course! Whom else did you?"

"I beg your pardon. What I meant was what is her size, at least approximately?"

"It doesn't matter in the least. Please show me some blouses, one blouse, any blouse, and let me go, for I am in a hurry to catch a train."

"With pleasure, sir, but if you can't give me an idea of the color, cut or size or anything else to guide me how can I hope to suit you?"

"Give me any blouse you like so long as the price is between $0 and $40 marks. It doesn't matter a straw what cut or color or size I choose, for in any case it's certain to be changed. I told you it is for a lady!"—London Telegraph.

SHOPS IN JAPAN.The Floors Are the Counters and Squatting Places of Buyers.

To start a Japanese shop is the simplest thing in the world. You take the front off your house and arrange your worldly possessions on the floor.

Japanese floors are raised off the street, though nothing is raised off them. The transient customer sits on the edge of the floor sidesaddle. A real shopper who means to do the thing properly climbs up on the floor, which is also the counter, and squats on his heels.

Real Japanese shops have no doors or windows or counters. Shop windows in England do not leave much wall in the frontage, but even an English shop window does not take the whole front of the house.

The Japanese have not many regular shops. There are very few streets of shops even in Tokyo, which is as large as Berlin. Foreigners never buy anything but curios. If they are fools, they deal with shops kept by Europeans; if they want bargains, they deal with Chinamen.

There are many Chinese shops in treaty ports. The Chinaman's cheaper and more reliable than the Japanese. European shopkeepers do not set up in Japan for philanthropic reasons. Japanese shopkeepers are the lowest class of population except the outcasts. Servants and laborers take precedence of them in society, and precedence is the hobby of the Japanese.

You have a different bow and a different salutation for a man who is below you or your equal, and several for the people above you. You have even a different language for each, and Japanese writing wriggles like carving on their temples.—London Standard.

Don't Bother Him.

A German clergyman who was traveling stopped at a hotel much frequented by wags and jokers. The host, not being used to having a clergyman at his table, looked at him with surprise. The guests used all their rillery of wit upon him without eliciting a remark. The clergyman ate his dinner quietly, apparently without observing the gibes and sneers of his neighbors. One of them, at last, in despair at his forbearance, said to him: "Well, I wonder at your patience. Have you not heard all that has been said to you?" "Oh, yes; but I am used to it. Do you know who I am?" "No, sir." "Well, I will inform you. I am chaplain of a lunatic asylum. Such remarks have no effect upon me."

A Russian Banknote.

The 100 ruble note of Russia is framed from top to bottom with all the colors of the rainbow, blended as when shown through a prism. In the center in bold relief stands a large, finely executed vignette of the Empress Catherine I. This is in black. The other engraving is not at all intricate or elaborate, but is well done in dark and light brown and black inks.

Belated Kindness.

Mr. Smith (in street car)—Madam, take my seat.

Mrs. Jones (who has been standing fifteen minutes)—No, thanks. I get off at the next corner.

Mr. Smith—That's all right. So do I.—Chicago Journal.

No Use at All.

He (who has offended her)—Won't you look up at me?

She—if I did, you'd kiss me again.

He—No; honest, I won't.

She—Then what's the use?—Life.

A Reminder.

Deurborn—What have you got that string tied about your finger for?

Wabash—Oh, I've been getting married, and my wife doesn't want me to forget it.—Boston Herald.

The habit of ether drinking is known to be prevalent in some parts of Russia, also in east Prussia, and all the efforts of the authorities to combat the evil have hitherto been almost fruitless. An idea of the extent to which the habit prevails may be gathered from records given in the Russian newspapers of a recent accident which occurred at a place called Trossno. Ether is drunk by farmers on festive occasions, when it appears to be consumed in palpable. A farmer, celebrating his son's wedding, in the fullness of his hospitality got in two palpable of ether. During the process of decanting the ether into bottles a violent explosion took place, by which six children were killed and one adult dangerously and fourteen others more or less severely injured.—British Medical Journal.

African Natives and Salt.

To obtain salt the Batakaluna and other African natives burn banana leaves and certain grasses and, collecting the ashes, place them in a large funnel ingeniously made from large banana leaves. Through this they percolate water and then evaporate the filtered water by boiling, obtaining a fairly white salt composed of a very small amount of chloride of sodium and a very large amount of chlorate of potash and other salts. Prior to the advent of the traders and the missionaries this was the only salt they had to satisfy the natural craving of a vegetable eating people.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

Boston, April 15.

The sub-committee of the two committees on Metropolitan Affairs and Harbors and Public Lands, which has for many weeks been discussing the proper report as to the proposed Charles River dam, have reported to the full committee their draft of the bill which will be reported, providing that Boston and Cambridge are to share what would be the expense of rebuilding the Craigie bridge. A dam is to be constructed high enough to hold back all tides and maintain a water level not less than eight feet above Boston base and to be not less than 100 feet in width, laid out as a highway or parkway, and fitted with a lock not less than 350 feet between gates, and provided with a draw bridge. The expense outside the bridge for the dam and Charles River basin is to be assessed upon the Metropolitan park district, and the dam, lock, basin and river, between the dam and Waltham, is to form a part of the Metropolitan park system, to be under the exclusive control subject to the powers of the state Board of Health, of the Metropolitan park commissioners. The work of constructing this dam and basin is to be in charge of three commissioners, one to be appointed by the Governor, one by the Mayor of Boston, and one by the Mayor of Cambridge, who are to serve at a salary of $4,000 a year, holding office for three years from January 1, 1904.

The committee on Roads and Bridges have reported in favor of a new bridge to be built by the Metropolitan park commissioners over the Charles River between Newton and Wellesley, at an expense of not over $40,000.

Senator Skinner had another trial of strength with Senator Gove of Waltham yesterday on the question of adopting resolutions in favor of the election of United States senators by popular vote, and by a narrow majority the Waltham man succeeded in substituting a bill to provide for a vote on the question at the next state election.

The patriotic efforts of City Solicitor Slocum to prevent the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its Legislature losing its head on the question of the so-called "mill tax" bill for the support of public schools has resulted in very great good. On Monday of this week the special commission appointed last year to consider the question of state support of the public schools made its report. This commission spends very little time in its report in pointing out the way Newton, Brookline, Malden, Nahant and Boston would be "soaked" by a "mill tax" law, but punctures the whole proposition by pointing out that it would be taxing the people of one municipality to raise money which might be expended by another municipality, while the city or town contributing funds would have no voice whatever in their expenditure. More than this, the commission says that the policy of the Commonwealth in connection with school matters has always been to aid the towns, but not to support the schools. "State support, as they understand it, must necessarily involve state control, as that is the principle that is applied in connection with metropolitan park, water, and sewer administrations, as also in connection with all the other great enterprises to which the state contributes money. Therefore, the commission recommends that the Massachusetts school fund, which has ne'er reached its maximum proportions of $5,000,000, shall be increased to $7,000,000, thus giving an annual income of about $250,000; that the $100,000 or so now taken from the income of this fund for the support of normal schools hereafter be used to aid the small towns, while the smaller amount taken from the income for the expenses of the state board of education shall be devoted to the same use. In other words, the entire income of the fund, if the commission's report is adopted, will hereafter be used to aid the small towns, while the state board of education and the state normal schools will be directly supported from the tax levy. The chances are that this report will take form in a bill, which will be adopted and settle the much mooted "mill tax" riddle for many days.

On Thursday of this week the House is to take up resolutions relative to government control or ownership of the anthracite coal mines, which are supported not only by the committee on Federal Relations but also by the special coal investigating committee. Mr. Dana of Newton has taken this matter in hand and given notice that when the resolutions are reached he will move to amend by striking out the preamble and substituting a lengthy one which quotes the Socialist Labor platform of 1902, the Socialist platform of the same year, the Democratic and Republican platforms, also of 1902, and sum up with a statement that "Whereas, the President of the United States and the late Congress, both Republican, in the successful settlement of the recent anthracite coal strike have acted in conformity with the Republican and Democratic parties, and have refused to commit themselves to the foregoing platforms of the Socialist and the Socialist Labor parties, to the disapproval of the legislature of Massachusetts," etc. Mr. Dana's preamble is evidently calculated to make Democrats and Republicans alike realize that in favoring the resolutions they are deserting their party platforms in favor of the platforms of the two Socialist bodies. It is a very shrewd movement on the part of an able lawyer, and indicates a point the writer has often dwelt upon in connection with the Newton member, that when the House desires real leadership it need seek no further.

What Shall we do with Morning?

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Everyone, not too young, or heedless, to think, is naturally supposed to have some scheme of life to guide him, at least in some things.

Times, whether of day, week or year, naturally enter, along with other elements, into the making of such a scheme. Now that since March 21st we are fairly launched again into the inviting summer half of the year, the question returns again with fresh interest what shall we do with our mornings? We confidently answer at once, saying: Use them heartily, all the year round, for health, strength and beauty of life.

The following, slightly abridged from a daily morning paper, is too good not to pass along, as confirming the answer just given, until all have seen it, and to their profit we may hope. This is it: "A man, whose business lately called him out early, asked a policeman why that young fellow is that rides past here early every morning." The rider was Gen. Bancroft, who rides out early at all seasons and in all weathers, while others sleep. It is this habit that enables him to do more every day the year round than most men. He believes thoroughly in horseback-riding as a far better tonic than doctors can put up."

Knowing well by long and essentially similar experience how true this is, it is important to add that, even if few can ride horseback daily, everyone is meant to be healthy. The only vital point is, that, for the best vigor, there must be some form of early light morning exercise, at least partly out of doors, and, if possible, daily.

Such exercise can be had in great variety, by man or woman, boy or girl, by open windows in numerous and varied indoor duties from cellar to attic when not actually out of doors. Outdoors, there is all the variety suggested by spade, hoe, fork, rake, sickle, saw, pruning-knife, or bird study, etc., with unflagging interest because of such variety, and with the zest afforded by seeing everything well kept up.

But why all this in the morning? Because dust is at its least, and the air is at its purest; because bird beauty of song and motion is at its height, and beauty of light and shade and of dew-spangled grass and flowers are at their best. Morning is thus, in very deed, the cream of the whole day, to miss which is to rob body and spirit of their share of the heaven-sent daily food for all. The merry salutation, "the top of the morning to you," thus truly expresses more than we can know, until we find by experience how much we lose by not daily taking the top of the morning as freely as it is given to us.

Everyone, finally, may very well most jealously guard against all such mischievously misleading misuses of night as would deprave us of our rightful morning benefits and delights, that Providence, both wise and kind, freely sets before us.

Horse Show.

There will be a jolly fluttering in horse circles throughout the East next Monday, April 20, when the Boston Horse Show opens its doors to the public. And what a rare treat there is awaiting the admirer of high stepping harness horse, the trotting horse, the hunter, the polo pony, the hackney and the high school horse. There is a record breaking list of entries which only goes to show that public interest in the exhibition keeps abreast of the strengthening competition for ribbons. Society placed its seal of approval on the horse show this year at the sale of boxes. The amount of sale aggregated $16,000, which is a new record for the sale of 75 boxes. If the show is not the very best affair of its kind ever held in Boston, it will not be for lack of attractions. All of the classes have filled handsomely, guaranteeing an excellent week's sport in and around the tan bark arena. There will be three performances daily, at 10 a. m., and at 2 and 8 p. m.

Central Vermont Ry's New Office.

The Central Vermont Railway Company and the Grand Trunk Railway System, which have long occupied offices together in Boston, have just moved into new and handsome quarters at 360 Washington street. The new offices are without question the best equipped and most elaborately fitted of any on railroad row, all of the furniture and fittings being in solid mahogany while the walls, in silver tints, give the whole place a very bright and cheery appearance. The change was rendered necessary by the rebuilding of the Old South Building, where the two roads have had offices for several years past.

Colonial Theatre—Klaw and Erlanger's great Drury Lane spectacle, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," is in its last nights at the Colonial Theatre, Boston. The final performance takes place on Saturday evening, May 2, after which the entire scenery and effects will be returned to London, England. This does not do away, however, with Drury Lane spectacle in America, for next season Klaw and Erlanger will present "Mr. Blue Beard," their current success at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, which they brought over from Drury Lane a few months ago. Seats are now on sale for all performances. In addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees, an extra matinee is announced for Patriots' Day, celebrated this year on Monday, April 20.

Boston Music Hall—That sterling attraction, "On the Suwanee River," will be the offering at the Boston Music Hall for the week commencing with the Patriot's Day matinee next Monday, with the usual daily matinees each afternoon during the week. That this play possesses interest and merit is an indisputable fact. Now in its sixth season, its drawing ability seems undiminished. "Like the song it will live forever," is a kind of trade mark or catchline used by Messrs. Stair and Nicolai, under whose direction it has been since its first introduction. The Great Lafayette will follow "On the Suwanee River."

A Little Good Advice

Every reader whose eye falls on this notice is advised to use no other than Dr. Harrison's Peristaltic Lozenges, the best remedy on the drug market for curing Constipation. The use of this effective remedy will remove a prolific cause of Ill Health and its results. Ask your druggist for the lozenges; and if he has not got them, or will not get them for you, you can get them by mail from E. Harrison Allison, proprietor, 788 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, Mass.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The girls' basket ball team defeated that of the school alumnae by a score of 14 to 9 last Saturday. The game was played in the school gymnasium at Newtonville, and was one of the most exciting and rough seen this season. Newton High lays claim to the state championship, having a team which has defeated all comers in its own class. So far this season its team work has been without fault and a feature of every game.

The High school baseball team has arranged the following schedule of games for the coming season: Friday, April 17, Volkman at Newton; Monday, April 20, Watertown at Newton; Saturday, April 25, open; Monday, April 27, Roxbury High at Newton; Friday, May 1, Cambridge manual training school at Newton; Tuesday, May 5, Noble and Greenough at Newton; Monday, May 11, St. Mark's at Southboro; Friday, May 15, Hopkins Latin at Newton; Monday, May 18, open at Newton; Friday, May 22, Cambridge Latin at Newton; Monday, May 25, Tufts' '05 at Newton; Wednesday, May 27, Ballou and Hobson at Newton; Saturday, May 30, Brookline at Newton. June 3, 6, 9, 13 and 17 are open, and will be played in this city.

Cellar Cleaning Important.

In the spring the cellar has become musty, foul smelling and a menace to health, as the air it rises to the upper parts of the house, poisoning the atmosphere there and rendering it unfit to be breathed. By liberally sprinkling Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol, about the floor before sweeping, and cleaning everything with a spoonful in a pail of water [without soap], all foul, musty, mouldy odors and unsanitary conditions will be destroyed. A little care and attention now means perfect healthy conditions later, for Sulpho Naphthol kills all Disease Germs.

"A Place Where Fish do Nothing but Bite."

The trout fishing season is on, "gentlemen," and it is up to you to cover yourself with glory. If you don't go, you not only miss the delights of that grandest of sports, angling, but the after enjoyment next winter at the club when somebody is waiting to hear a yarn about trout fishing. Get ready then and pack your duds and go down to Maine and rest assured that you'll get plenty of fish and plenty of material for a story. It makes no difference whether you have a bait rod, a split bamboo or a lancewood, and if nothing bites, get a hickory stick, a pin and a piece of cord, you'll catch them. Why the land-locked salmon and trout are so hungry and plentiful this year, that in some places you don't need anything but a basket and they'll stop right in.

If you don't care to visit away down in Maine, remember Winnipesaukee, Sunapee and Newfound lakes in New Hampshire and Memphremagog and Champlain in Vermont, all famous fishing grounds.

Send to the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, for their book called "Fishing and Hunting." It tells you where to go and describes the territory in full. It will be mailed on receipt of two cents in stamps.

Street Railway Notes

The Newton Street Railway Co. has complied with the request of the Waltham aldermen that school tickets be given to pupils of both public and private schools.

Majestic Theatre—Next week's attraction at the Majestic Theatre will be Mr. Robert B. Mantell, one of the foremost romantic actors on the American stage, and his company of talented artists, in a repertoire of Mr. Mantell's most successful plays. Mr. Mantell's engagement, which will open with a holiday matinee on Monday afternoon, is the first he has played in Boston in several years and there is a strong desire on the part of the theatre-going public to see him again. "The Dagger and the Cross" will be the bill on Monday afternoon and on Tuesday evenings. The bill selected for the Wednesday matinee and for Wednesday and Thursday evenings is "Monbars," which is well known to many theatre-goers. On Friday and Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee, Mr. Mantell will present "The Face in the Moonlight," in which he made one of the biggest triumphs of his theatrical career. The attraction booked to follow Mr. Mantell is Ward and Voices and their big company of 75 people in the farce comedy success, "The Head Waiters."

Keith's Theatre—The principal new bit of entertainment in the Keith show for the week of April 20 will be the specialties offered by the double sextet and others from the original comedy presenting "Floradora," the delightful musical comedy that had such a vogue during the past couple of seasons. "Beneath the Shade of the Sheltering Palms," the "8.00 A. M. Duet" and "Tell Me Pretty Maiden," will all be sung. Other contributors to the program will be Howard Thurston, a wizard with cards; Ed Reynard, a talented ventriloquist; George Thatcher, black-face jokeshift; Raitta, a noted drapery dancer; the Two Schrodes, pantomime grottoesques, and Gillett's musical dogs, a fairly wonderful troupe of educated canines. On Monday the doors open at 10 o'clock a. m., and the performance will commence half an hour later.

Where to go Monday.

Because of Patriot's Day falling on Sunday this year, its observance will be carried over to Monday, when the masses will unite in one grand effort to enjoy themselves in a manner fitting to the occasion.

Probably the greatest opportunity for clean, enjoyable and healthful recreation, is offered at Combination Park, Medford, which opens its gates for the fifth season, and one which promises to surpass all others in point of success.

There will be four fast equine events, both in harness and running races.

The spacious dancing pavilion, containing a little over 6000 square feet of floor space, will be free to patrons. A delightful band concert will be given during the entire afternoon.

The commodious grand-stand, seating upwards of $500, and an open bleacher, commands a view of the entire track as well as giving ample opportunity for rest.

The horses will be called at 1.30 p. m. The band concert and dancing begin at 1 o'clock.

All Medford cars pass Combination Park.

Midshipman for Annapolis.

Congressman Powers has been requested by the Navy Department to nominate from the 12th Congressional District of this State, a principal and three alternates for examination for appointment as midshipman at the United States Naval Academy.

There are a large number of applicants to fill this vacancy, and Mr. Powers has decided to hold a competitive examination, which will take place on May 9th and May 16th. The examination on May 9th will be for the purpose of determining the physical fitness of the applicants, and on May 16th a mental examination will take place.

Mr. Powers has selected the following committee to conduct the examination and make recommendation to him: Mr. Charles D. Meserve, Instructor of Mathematics, Newton High school; Mr. John C. Packard, Instructor in Sciences, Brookline High school, and Colonel Otis H. Marion, Medical Director of the First Brigade M. V. M.

The applicants passing the medical examination on May 9th will receive certificates and be permitted to take part in the mental examination on May 16th.

All applicants must be at least 15 years, and not more than 20 years of age, and must be actual bona fide residents of the district for at least two years preceding the examination. Notice of the place of examination will be made public later on.

The representatives from this district, both at West Point and Annapolis, at the present time and for many years past, have taken high rank at the military and naval academies. Our cadet at West Point ranks No. 2, and our midshipman at Annapolis ranks near the head of his class. There is every reason to assume that the representatives from this district will continue this high standard for excellency at the military and naval academies for many years to come for the reason that the best boys in the district are very desirous of entering the military or naval service.

If you don't care to visit away down in Maine, remember Winnipesaukee, Sunapee and Newfound lakes in New Hampshire and Memphremagog and Champlain in Vermont, all famous fishing grounds.

Letter to Geo. H. Ellis.
West Newton.

Dear Sir: Here's what "fewer gallons" means:

Mr. N. Avery of Delhi, N. Y., owns two houses exactly alike. He painted one with a mixed paint—took twelve gallons. Painted the other with Devoe—brought twelve gallons and had six gallons left. Same painter—George Gilbert

The secret is: Devoe Lead and Zinc is one hundred per cent. paint; the mixed paint was about fifty per cent. paint and fifty per cent. adulteration.

Here is an analysis of a mixed paint sold in your neighborhood:
Lead, zinc and color 41 per cent.
Lime and China clay 59

You see 59 per cent. is adulteration. What is it for?

To fill the can; to take unfair advantage of your very natural and right desire to make your house painting cost as little as possible.

The cheap paint is Devoe Lead and Zinc because it is all paint no expense for anything else—and it does not waste your money.

Yours truly,
F W Devoe & Co.

Financial.

The troubles and rumors of troubles in labor circles are disquieting factors, but we think that undue prominence is being given them at the present time, and that nothing of a serious nature will result. Labor troubles we have always had, and probably always will have, and as they have been settled before without upsetting the prosperity of the country, so they will be again. At the present time it is well to note that differences between labor and capital have been amicably settled as they have arisen, and that serious strikes are getting to be the exception to the rule in labor matters.

The monetary stringency which is given as the real cause for the recent slump prices cannot continue very long if the opinions of conservative bankers count for anything, and it is extremely probable that we have passed through the worst stage of this difficulty. The growth of the country has been so great that there has been a tremendous demand for money for legitimate business, and consequently Wall Street cannot have all it desires to use for speculative purposes. For this reason we cannot expect to see prices climb and a big bull market develop immediately, but below the present level securities cannot but look like bargains to the investors, and good buying can be looked for from this source.—Curtis and Sederquist letter.

The smoke of the Southern Pacific is clearing away; and though there are mutterings of Keene vengeance for defeat, the affair is now as effectually shelved for months, as regards the market, as is the Northern Securities litigation. The aftermath may hold some lingering unpleasantness, but the lingering should not be long.

Apart from this episode, we have a market not quite over its worry about lack of cash, somewhat distressed by security "indigestion," and yet almost wholly convalescent from both by means of a drastic purging through liquidation.

In the broader world outside the confines of Wall street, everything, even the season, favors a striking upturn. No pessimists are heard there; even the crop-story fabrication is silent, for the farmer's satisfaction is too evident to give an opportunity; and the railroad, the steel mill and the merchant are uninterruptedly busy. The foundations for a spring rise are all solidly laid; and the very short interest which the short-sighted Wall Street bear has built will be long help furnish material for the imposing super structure.—Corey, Milliken & Co. letter.

FEWER gallons; wears longer; Devoe.

A Good Spring Tonic.

One ticket to Halifax, one state-room berth and a few days off. This prescription may be taken every Saturday at 12 noon, from north side Lewis wharf, Boston. If the patient desires there may be added a fish line with files, hooks, rod, etc., etc. If taken after May 1, the "potition" may be increased by taking a ticket to Hawkesbury, Cape Breton or Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, also to Newfoundland, where speckled beauties "lie in wait," both salmon and trout. All information about this wonderful remedy will be cheerfully given by J. A. Flanders, passenger agent, 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston. Send for booklet.

Hill Climbing Contest.

The first hill-climbing contest for motor vehicles ever held in this section will be held under the auspices of the Massachusetts Automobile Club on the Commonwealth avenue hill on the afternoon of Patriot's day, April 20. The race committee of the club has held the matter under consideration for some time, and has announced the list of events. These are seven in number.

The first event will be for steam vehicles, the second for gasoline cars under 2000 pounds weight, the third for gasoline cars over 2000 pounds weight, the fourth for electric cars, the fifth for gasoline cars with tonneaus, the sixth for motorcycles and the seventh open to winners of previous events. This latter event will bring all styles of vehicles into a grand free for all, and will give a solution to the much discussed proposition of power against power.

The events will be started below Allston street, all cars taking a standing start. All vehicles are to carry their full complement of passengers, and no prize will be awarded for walkovers. The entrance fee for each event is placed at $2, and entries will be received by Chairman George R. Alley at the Massachusetts Automobile Club house until Friday, April 17.

Silver cups will be awarded to the winner of each event.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Many and Various Kinds of Licenses Granted. Drug-gist's Books to be Examined monthly.

Vigorous Protest by Alderman Baker Against Electric Car Service between Lower Falls and Newton.

At the regular meeting of the aldermen held Tuesday evening, on account of the holiday, President Weed was in the chair and Aldermen Baker, Barber, Bowen, Brown, Chesley, H. B. Day, Dennison, Ellis, Hunt, Johnson, Lothrop, Mellen, Norris, Saltonstall, Sweeney and Webster were present.

At the hearing on the petition of the Newton and Boston Street Railway Co. to locate 4 steam engines and boilers on Homer street, Mr. James L. Richards was the first speaker and stated that the road needed the additional facilities to its power plant especially for the increase of travel during the summer. Mr. Richards intimated that he had heard of an alleged nuisance from this plant caused by hot water and oil but said that he had made a large investment in real estate in that vicinity notwithstanding.

Mr. E. K. Hall said that the new Corliss engine which it is proposed to install is absolutely necessary for power. One of the present engines is licensed already, and the law requires a separate license for each engine. The new engine will go a long way towards eliminating the matter of discharging hot water and oil into Bullocks pond.

Mr. E. A. Wilkie said that the city had already instituted injunction proceedings against this company on account of the nuisance at Bullocks pond and that action thereon had been postponed on the formal promise of the company that it would soon remove its power plant from Homer street.

Mr. Hall stated in reply that the Company at that time intended to locate its power station at Waltham and had purchased the land for that purpose. Within six months another plan had been broached and it is a certainty that the Company will soon get all its power either from Waltham or by the new plan, and the Homer street plant abandoned. It will require two years, however, to complete a new plant at Waltham. Incidentally Mr. Hall quoted a statement that the cause of the non-freezing of Bullocks pond was not the hot water from the power station but on account of the temperature of water coming from the under drain of the sewer.

In reply to a suggestion by Mr. Wilkie that the city ought not to prejudice its equity proceedings by apparently granting additional privileges to commit possible nuisances, Mr. Hall stated that he would be willing to have the licenses issued without prejudice to any legal proceedings.

The hearing was then closed.

A proclamation by Gov. Bates naming April 25th as Arbor Day was read and filed.

A recommendation from Public Buildings Commissioner that the building ordinance be amended and the plumbing and building laws be revised was referred to the Committee on Rules, etc.

Claims by W. I. Richardson for damages caused by bicycle accident occasioned by defect in street and by J. S. Richardson for $750 compensation for services during recent police investigation were referred to the Committee on Claims.

Petition of Ann M. Cobb for a sewer in Hillside road was referred to the Committee on Public Works.

These petitions were referred to the Committee on Public Franchises: Of the Boston and Worcester Street Railway Co. for authority to act as a common carrier of freight in Newton; of William Perlmuter for wagon license; of A. H. Strong for 4 bowling alley licenses; of Chas. Eichler for a pedlers' license, and of the Telephone Co. for attachments to poles on Auburn street, Newton Centre, for poles on Boylston street, and of the Gas Co. for pole location on Forest avenue, hearings being ordered before the Committee for April 30 at 7:45 p.m.

Petition of the Telephone Co. for attachments on North Adams street was returned to the Company, North Adams street not being a public street.

Walter Chesley was granted permission to move a building from Boylston street to off Oak street, when approved by the Street Commissioner.

These petitions were granted without reference: T. H. Smith, 2 wagons, 1 carriage license; C. F. Driscoll, 2 wagon licenses, G. W. French, 3 wagons, J. H. Rowlands, Common Victualler license; Wilbur Bros., Common Victualler license; C. G. Tinkham, 1 carriage license; Charles Perry, junk license and Z. H. Tyler, Innholders' license.

F. Negrotti was granted leave to withdraw on his petition for a Common Victualler license.

A report from the same committee recommending monthly examinations and reports of books of druggists by the Chief of Police and stricter compliance with the law and ordinances by holders of Common Victualler, Innholder, Carriage, Wagon, and street musician licenses was adopted.

The meeting of the Young People's Society at the Immanuel Baptist church, Newton, next Sunday, will be in charge of the Missionary committee.

A meeting of the Woman's Benevolent Societies connected with the Newton Centre Methodist church will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the new 12 room brick building on the site of the present Wade school, the removal of the present Wade school to a temporary location this summer, the renting of the club house, at Newton Highlands for temporary relief and the installation of adequate heating and ventilating plant in the Hyde school, the advisability of securing land for a school house at Chestnut Hill and the continuance of the committee as a permanent feature. A discussion followed the presentation of the report as to its proper disposition and it was finally decided to refer it to the Committee on Public Works, the report to be printed for the use of the board.

Alderman Saltonstall called up the matter of the incomplete appropriation for changing over fire apparatus to equip the Chestnut Hill fire station and an order, appropriating $1200 for that purpose was subsequently adopted.

A long discussion followed the presentation of resolutions offered by Alderman Mellen whereby the board declared that its action in granting relocation of tracks on Boylston street Sept. 15, 1902 to the Commonwealth Avenue Co. did not impose any additional obligations on said Company.

Alderman Mellen stated that the matter was liable to be misunderstood on account of the ambiguity of the amended order of that date.

Alderman Day said it was a case of giving the Company the benefit of a doubt. Alderman Webster opposed the resolutions as an attempt on the part of the aldermen to instruct the railroad commissioners in their duties, and is unnecessary legislation. His motion to table the matter until the next meeting was defeated by a vote of 12 nays, 5 yeas, and the resolutions were then adopted.

Alderman Baker introduced an order requiring the Wellesley and Boston Street Railway Co. to give 15 minute service between Lower Falls and Nonantum square, and said that public opinion had been worked to a white heat by the recent and unexpected change in the schedule whereby the Lower Falls had been given a 30 instead of a 15 minute service to Newton. This he claimed interfered greatly with the public accommodation from his village, especially with the scholars attending the High school. The less number of cars crowded those which were run and the service should be restored to fifteen minute schedule. The new arrangement in Alderman Baker's opinion had only one benefit in preventing the disagreeable wait at the corner of Commonwealth avenue for people who wished to go to Boston on that line.

Alderman Brown spoke of the abolition of free transfers by the new arrangement and believed that President Claflin should be called upon for an explanation.

Alderman Day said he appreciated the feelings of the Lower Falls in this matter but believed it was too large a question to act upon without deliberation and careful consideration.

Alderman Johnson said the change did not seriously affect Auburndale but he did not blame the Lower Falls for objecting.

Alderman Baker said that a free transfer system with connecting cars would modify his order but the present arrangement was an outrage. On his motion the order was then referred to the Committee on Public franchises.

These orders were then adopted:

Assigning hearings May 4 on taking lands for sewers in Cold Spring swamp, Grant street, and in private land to Mechanic street, and on construction of a concrete sidewalk on Oxford road under the betterment act; authorizing sewer construction in Webster street, Webster park and in Wolcott street; granting $83,405.25 for city expenses to May 15; appropriating $202.20 for awards on account of Hammond brook; granting N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. relocation of pole on Mill street and attachments on Walnut street and Langley road, and granting N. & W. Gas Light Co. pole locations on Prince, Hammond streets and Ware road.

And at 9:53 p.m. the board adjourned.

Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R.

The April meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., was held at the Hunnewell Club house, Thursday afternoon, April 16th. Over one hundred members and friends attended, not being deterred by unpleasant weather. The attractive parlors and halls of the club house were bright with flags, bunting and jocquins. A reception of half an hour was held by the hostesses, Miss Susan A. Whiting, Mrs. E. D. Baldwin, Mrs. J. G. Godding, Mrs. H. M. Greenough, Mrs. Eben Sears, Mrs. G. D. Gilman, being absent on account of illness, was represented by her sister, Mrs. May. A brief business meeting followed, with the regent, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, in the chair. Various matters were discussed, the most important being that it was voted to make an excursion to "The Wayside Inn," Sudbury, for the Flag Day Outing, June 15th, and to have a lawn party some time in May on the grounds of the regent, so cordially offered by her. The guests of honor were then received, four representatives from Berea College, Kentucky, and Miss Mabel Moneghan, soprano soloist. After a stirring selection sung by Miss Moneghan, William Gordell Frost, president of the college, was introduced and spoke on "Our Contemporary Ancestors of the Southern Mountains." Dr. Frost then introduced Mr. James Combs, who recited, imitatively a selection from the writings of Charles Egbert Coker.

Keith's Theatre—Commencing Monday, April 27, the doors at Keith's will be opened at 1 o'clock p.m., which is half an hour later than hitherto, and the performance will begin at half the hour. Director Baer starting the entertainment with his excellent orchestra. The program is one of much promise and particularly strong in comedy acts, with such famous variety people as the Four Mortons, in their clever specialties; Tom Ryan and Mary Richfield, in the screaming farce, "Mag Haggerty's Father;" George Thatcher, blackface humorist; Charles W. Littlefield, mimetic comedian; Flood Brothers, acrobatic grotesques, and Frederick Brothers and Jessie Burns, a new team of novelty and comedy instrumentalists. The "Floradora" folks will be continued another week, which will positively be their last, and a dozen other acts, with a new outfit of vitagraph motion pictures, will make up the continuous show.

Majestic Theatre—The patrons of the Majestic Theatre will be treated to a splendid season of fun, frolic and music, commencing next Monday night when a preliminary spring and summer season of light musical comedy will be inaugurated by Ward and Vokes and their company of laugh-provokers, under the management of E. D. Stair. This will be the first Boston appearance in three years of these well known stars and they will present their highly successful musical "Cut-up," entitled, "The Head Waiters." Pretty girls, amusing comedians, melodious music and bewitching costumes make a combination that would be hard to equal anywhere and it is confidently expected that the limited run of these artists at the Majestic will be the most successful they have ever played in Boston. During the run of Ward and Vokes at the Majestic, popular prices of 25, 35, 50, 75 cents and few seats at $1 will prevail. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Financial.

In all probability the market has reached the stage where the dividend paying securities cannot decline very much without inducing investment buying. This class of buying has made its appearance on the last two breaks that prices have undergone, and with the financial atmosphere gradually clearing, it means that prices are at a level where conservative speculative buying cannot be dangerous.

Of course no pronounced boom can be looked for, and for the time being we think fair profits should be taken, but the abnormal bearish sentiment should gradually diminish and prices work upward slowly.

The monetary outlook is much improved, and it will not be long before the cry of tight money will be a thing of the past. Rates should tend to become easier immediately, and while 2½ per cent, money will probably not be seen for a long time, we believe that less than 4 per cent, will be the average rate for the balance of the year. Security prices have had severe declines, and these declines have more than discounted 5 per cent money basis, so that any easing up in rates must result in improved security prices.

MONDAY EVENING, BENEFIT OF AL. SHEEHAN, Treasurer.

Craddock. Another true type of the sturdy mountaineer, Mr. Noah May, told of the influences which led him to go to Berea, after supposing he already had fitted for a teacher, and he has since spent all the time there his earnings would permit. Both the students are now at the North studying slow, which they will teach later at Berea. The mountain women spin and weave, making strong, beautiful rugs, counterpanes, etc., specimens of which can be seen at the rooms of the Arts and Crafts Society, 14 Somerset street, Boston. President Frost spoke further of the great desire for education shown by many mountain youths, descendants of Revolutionary soldiers and of those who were Unionists in our Civil War, making assistance in furthering education among this class a most patriotic work. Miss Moneghan sang Mrs. Howe's Battle Hymn of the Republic, the audience joining in the chorus. More beautiful music followed. It was unanimously voted that the Chapter give a scholarship of $40 to Bema College, and the regent announced that Miss S. A. Whiting, Washington street, Newton, would receive and forward any individual donations. A delightful social hour followed, the hostesses being assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Preacott Warren, Mrs. C. D. Black, the Misses Sears, Fox, Clark, Logan, Partridge, Priest, Mellen, Gilman, Greenough, Ware, McNeil. Among the guests present were Mrs. Caroline P. Heath, Regent of Massachusetts Society D. R., and Mrs. Mary A. Chapman ex-State Regent.

The officers elected are: Pres., J. K. Robinson; Sec., Joseph Emerson; Treas., Fred Young. The object of the association is to furnish amusement in the nature of band concerts and carnivals on the Charles River the coming season. The association has voted to petition the metropolitan park commissioners for a permit to erect a band stand west of the Weston bridge on the land of the commission. If the permit is granted arrangements will be made for a series of ten concerts to be given on Saturday evenings during the months of June, July and August. He has not only achieved renown on the stages of New York theatres, but he learned the art of acting under exacting tutelage of some of the greatest stage managers in Sweden, his native country. There will be matinees as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Newton Club.

The entertainment committee has certainly struck the right chord in the series of club “round ups,” it has been giving, if the attendance and enthusiasm at the second affair of this kind last Saturday evening is any criterion. Fully 200 members were present, quite a number of whom came early enough for the table d’hote dinner, which was served at 6.30. The entertainment given in the hall consisted of “congregational” singing of popular melodies, with stories by Messrs. E. K. Hall, J. R. Chandler and Congressman Powers. The Temple quartet added much to the enjoyment of the evening, and the pianist, Mr. C. F. White proved to be the right man in the right place.

The “ladies’ night” entertainment Wednesday evening was a recital of songs and ballads by Miss Lucie A. Tucker, contralto soloist. Fully 200 members and guests attended. A feature was the introduction of early songs of different countries. Miss Tucker was assisted by Miss Katherine B. Halliday, soloist, and Miss Louise S. Currier, pianist.

FRANCIS-LOVELL

One of the most brilliant weddings of the season took place last week Thursday evening in the First Unitarian church, West Newton, when Miss Florence Hastings Lovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Daniel Lovell of Lenox street, became the wife of John Morgan Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer Francis of Troy, N. Y.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was attended by more than 500 guests, including many from Boston, Philadelphia and New York state. The church was handsomely decorated.

ed. The bride, who was attired in a rich gown of white crepe de chine over satin, with a veil, and carrying a bouquet of lilies of the valley, was preceded up the aisle by the maid of honor, Miss Madge Lovell, her sister, who wore a becoming white gown and carried pink sweet peas. The bridesmaids, the Misses Helen, Harriet and Margaret Francis, sisters of the bridegroom, were also in white and carried baskets of sweet peas. The best man was Stewart Burchard of Boston, and the usher Sidney Jones, Gilbert Tucker, Jr., and Edward Easton, Jr., of Albany, Howard Richards, Jr., of New York, Carl Johnson, George Lane and Chester Warren of Troy, Roger Pierce of Milton, John Jeffords of Philadelphia, Pa., and Walter Lovell of West Newton, brother of the bride. The bride was given away by her father, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, minister of the church.

Following the church ceremony there was a largely attended reception at the home of the bride's parents, 40 Lenox street. Mr. and Mrs. Francis will make their future home at 195 Second street, Troy, N. Y., which residence, completely furnished, was given them by the bridegroom's parents.

Letter to Newton Prov. Co.

Newton.

Dear Sirs: Porterhouse, so much; neck, so much; all the way between. Just so with paint. Devoe Lead and Zinc is the porterhouse. Nobody wants the neck; the between, some like, is good enough for them.

But Devoe costs less, not more, than between. Lead and oil is between; it is the old-fashion paint. But zinc has come in. Zinc toughens white lead. Devoe Lead and Zinc is the paint.

Mr. John N. Deitel, Fair Haven, N. Y., writes:

Mr. Charles Hollenbeck, of this place, painted his house three years ago with Devoe Lead and Zinc; his father painted at the same time with lead and oil. To-day the son's house looks as well as the day it was painted, while the father's house has all chalked off and needs painting very badly. The father says he will paint with Devoe next time.

Yours truly,

F W Devoe & Co
